NOBLE KIZER
of Purdue

"Rockne called him the 5th Horseman. The mule that cleared the way."

"PHOG" ALLEN
of Kansas

Famous for his "Phog" Allen system of basketball and the stratified transitional zone defense. Sixteen years at Kansas—eleven championships.

of Michigan

Yost considers him one of the greatest of Michigan centers. The man who developed Michigan's 1933 National Championship line.

A. A. SCHABINGER
of Creighton

The basketball "Wizard of the West." One of the best teachers of offensive basketball. His teams have been famous for their scoring ability.

June 18 to 23, 1934

NOBLE KIZER

Athletic Director - Head Football Coach. Has unique distinction of being recognized as one of the ablest athletic executives and football strategist in the Big Ten. Former Notre Dame 165-pound guard, on the National Championship "Four Horsemen" eleven of 1924. Head football coach at Purdue for the past four years. His achievements have brought Purdue its greatest record in history. His teams are noted as "touchdown elevens." In four years, Kizer's Purdue teams have played thirty-four games against foes of recognized power with only four losses and two ties. Kizer is a forceful speaker and packs a lot of gridiron wisdom above his eyes.

"PHOG" ALLEN

Forrest C. Allen, better known as "Phog," needs no introduction to coaches as his name is well known wherever basketball is played. Has one of the finest records of any coach in the country. During his sixteen years at Kansas has won the championship of his conference twelve times. He is a past President of the National Basketball Coaches Association and member of the Joint Rules committee. Besides his coaching ability, Allen is an authority of training methods and during the school he will teach from this angle. Coaches who have been in attendance at schools where Allen has taught are enthusiastic about his ability as a teacher.

JACK BLOTT

Fielding H. Yost of Michigan considers him one of the greatest of Michigan centers. Was chosen ALL AMERICAN on Walter Camp's 1923 football team. Graduated with the class of 1924. Blott has taught at the University of Chautauqua, New York. Has been connected with the University of Michigan summer school for six years and one summer at Chautauqua, New York. Has been with the University of Michigan's Athletic Department for ten years. During this time some of the best Michigan teams of the past decade have been developed. In 1933 Michigan won the undisputed title of National Champion. The fine Michigan line coached by Blott played no little part in this success. Blott brings to the Columbus Coaching School a wealth of football knowledge.
