

JIM RENNICK

Ohio Sports Editor, The Associated Press. Formerly Sports Editor of the Springfield, Ohio, Sun for five years and then associated with the Sports Department of the Detroit Free Press for three years. During the past three years has had charge of all sports in Ohio for the Associated Press. Rennick has covered every Southern California, Notre Dame games, Michigan and Ohio State, and many other Big Ten schools. He also covers the Ohio and Buckeye Conferences. Rennick will talk on "The Relation of the Coach to the Press."

BILLY SOUTHWORTH & JACK McCALLISTER

The Columbus Coaching School is indeed fortunate in securing two such able men as Jack McCallister and Billy Southworth. This promises to be one of the feature attractions of the school. McCallister has had a varied baseball experience, being former manager of the Cleveland Indians and for the past sixteen years chief scout for the Boston Red Sox. His connections with baseball have carried him from coast to coast and he will be able to present an interesting treatise on every angle of baseball. Billy Southworth, formerly of Pittsburgh, New York Giants, and an outfielder for the St. Louis Cardinals when they won the world's championship. Later, manager of Rochester, winning pennants there, and in 1932 was manager of the Columbus Red Birds, finishing second in the American Association. Southworth has probably had more experience than any other man in the country in dealing with young ball players, and his ability to impart a wonderful store of baseball knowledge has made him one of the recognized baseball authorities in the country. These men will show many fundamental drills for teaching young ball players.

GEORGE SIMPSON

"The World's Fastest Human." Simpson, while a member of the track team at Ohio State University, was considered the greatest sprinter in the country. His performances in the Penn Relays, Ohio Relays, and in the Olympics stamped him as one of the finest track men ever turned out at Ohio State. His records are too numerous to mention. His association with Jack Keller at the Columbus Coaching School will be of interest to all track coaches.