day and take care of the recreation program for the company in addition to my other work with the Platoon. For some time I neglected to forward the above information to you, but just one hour ago, I was called upon to demonstrate an ankle strapping and I thought you and the First Aid Students at K.U. would be interested in this incident.

I followed the model of the basket weave in "Better Basketball" and during the demonstration our Company Commander walked in, he was so enthused about it that he ran over to call the Bn. Commander, Major L. W. Wilson, an M.D. and the Adjutant also an M.D. and they thought it was the best demonstration they have seen in the Army.
