Dear Doctor Allen:

You again came through with a fine evenings entertainment on Tuesday and because it is natural to complain but seldom write complimentary letters I want to give you a surprise with this thank you note for the excellent performance of your ball club. Never saw a Kansas team fight any harder than in that game and thought the improvement was about one-hundred percent as I saw the Denver game three or four weeks ago. I am not a student of the game; merely a fan, but it seemed to me that the boys were continually scrapping for the ball and seemed to have a good idea what they were trying to do; in fact, tried to make plays work. Wish I could compliment every one of them individually. There seemed to be fine team play.

Agree whole heartedly with the Big Six action in the Oklahoma Tucker affair. Now, I only hope that we can win down at Norman the last of February.

I told the young lady in the office to hold a couple of tickets for me to the next home game, which I believe is Kansas State, and am now trying to find business in Lincoln next Saturday, the 17, but this may be going a little too far in view of the tire rationing.

Very best regards, I am

Cordially,

W. W. Fuller.
