Mr. W. A. Forsberg

Dear Wally:

In answer to your request please find enclosed our basketball schedule.

I regret to say that Mr. Falkenstein of the Athletic Department handles all ticket sales and he informs me that a concession is made to high school students because of the lack of room. All seats are seventy-five cents (75¢) except in the second balcony which are twenty-five¢. At the present time we are completely sold out for the Nebraska and Oklahoma games so I would suggest making reservations now for the Kansas State or the Oklahoma A & M game.

We would like nothing better than to go entertain many of the high school guests at these games, but we have only 100 more seats available than does Kansas State. The main difference is that we do not constantly bemoan our situation. For twenty years we have had teams that everybody wanted to see play and have never had more room than necessary to accommodate our student enrollment. We too need a fieldhouse.

It was a pleasure to me to be of assistance with your boy. On our Christmas jaunt back east we learned of a "gas mask" soap used at West Point to prevent glasses from fogging over and impairing vision. We have an order in with our R. O. T. C. unit, and I believe you should certainly be able to obtain a supply from the Forst near you.

With kindest personal regards and best wishes for success the remainder of the season, I am,

Very cordially yours,

Director of Physical Education and Recreation

Dear Dr. Allen:

We have received the goggles from Mr. Means that you suggested. The boy is coming along much better at present, and I want to thank you for your expert advice on this matter.

Our boys are interested in seeing one of your home games. Would it be too much bother to ask you to send, or have someone mail, me a schedule of your games? What would it cost these high school boys to get in on one of your home games and would reservations be necessary?

Again I wish to express my appreciation for your kindness.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Dr. Allen:

Just a line to tell you how we enjoyed last night's game, and so happy that it came out on the right side of the ledger. Again want to thank you for taking care of us in such excellent fashion. Will probably want tickets for the remaining home games if I am here but will simply have to take my chances and wait until a little later to reserve them.

I am sending a copy of this letter to Mr. Falkenstien as I want him to know how I appreciate his cooperation.

I received your letter today and apparently slipped up due to tremendous amount of work I am doing right now. I thought I had acknowledged receipt of your story and mat.

Am very sorry for the oversight, Doctor, and want to take this opportunity to thank you sincerely for your fine cooperation. The article ~~is~~ swell and, though, the first issue doesn't come off until next week, I am sure the mat is a good one.

There is intense interest in basketball down here and I know that your item will be appreciated some 35,000 times by all the men.

Friend Doctor:-

I received your manuscript today. Thanks very much. It is absolutely swell and just exactly what I had hoped for and more or less expected.

I showed it to the Colonel. He certainly thinks it is fine. The series of columns will start next week. I will send you a copy of all of them. I think(modestly) that it is a standout. And I sure appreciate the cooperation that you and my other friends have given me. And I know that 30,000 men will appreciate it, too, because they have a lot of leisure hours in the evenings and they consume the stuff in their paper line by line.

I hope that some day I may be able to repay you in some measure for your kindness and believe me when I say that I will go out of my way at any time to be of help to you.

Dear Fred:

Well, we missed fire. Our boys were cold as an Alaskan iceberg and the Oklahoma boys were sizzling hot. It was our off night and we could not hit an elephant on the tail with a baseball bat. That ought to be easy.

The boys were nervous and tense and they could not play the game they were capable of. However, I have been secretly wishing that we would not go into the Tournament in Kansas City because our boys are little and certainly not a tournament team. Frankly, I do not know how in the world we got where we did.

However, I do thank you for your good wishes. You know a fellow is always vain and he likes to have others say that he has the stuff.

My Task

Well ,I am looking back over almost eight years in the physical education department at the University and I must ask you to take it from me that my greatest compensations and biggest interests have not been visible ones. Of course to me no field offers richer, broader returns than that of physical education. In fact I shudder and draw a deep breath when I think of the responsibility of my job. To translate the aims of my department into concrete terms is in itself a big and fascinating job. But for my larger interests, look with me beyond these elements and see the shadows and brilliancies of hundreds of personalities. See their ambitions, their human strivings, their willingness to see the inconsistencies of their behavior and to be guided by a friendly hand. To have a small part in this, to be loyal to the intimate contacts with my boys, their friendliness and their confidences; to understand their outbursts of temper over an official's decision and be patient while out of his own judgment he uses that experience to build a philosophy which will help him "stand the gaff" out in the world. To have a letter after the years have passed, from one telling of his job and successful life, from one telling of his failure to be true to the ideals he should have followed; to offer a word of praise to the former, and a word of encouragement to the latter. To have a mother come and say "My boy is doing so well and he wanted you to know" --- These are the greater interests of my job. These are the things that give me a thrill of happiness, that cause a beat in my heart, a smile, a tear for the opportunities I may have missed and a prayer that I may be worthy of my great task.

Regarding our taking another train other than the Rock Island to Wichita, may I say that at the last minute I discovered that the last day of enrollment for the second semester was February 4 and it was necessary that we get back to Lawrence as soon as possible so the boys could enroll before too many classes were closed. I was under the impression that the Rock Island left Wichita in the morning, but when I found out it left sometime soon after noon, we made arrangements to take another train that would get us out of Wichita sooner.

I believe this explains why it was necessary for us to change our plans at the last minute. You can rest assured that I will remember you in my will!

Dave Shirk who was a star of yours as well as our star football player here at the University of Kansas and who is now Athletic Director of Augusta, Kansas, is here this summer with us taking work in our School of Education. We have appointed Dave Shirk Athletic Generalissimo for the summer session of the University of Kansas.

Dave will have charge of all of our tournaments and we have many of them. We have a sixteen softball league, volley ball, tennis, and swimming tournaments. We also have an innovation that is striking a very happy response here for the summer session. Our quadrangle is electric lighted. It is the coolest spot on Mt. Oread because the Wakarusa Valley and the Kaw Valley send their breezes that top this high hill. And, in the evening from 7:30 to 9:30 we light the quadrangle and our students play shuffle board, volley ball, badminton, tennis, and all of the games that the family may indulge in.

We have sand piles, swings, teeter-totters, moneky maze, jungle gym and everything for the little tots. We also have folk dances and rythmic dancing for the youngsters and we have street dances with corn meal. We also have picnics with feeds on the quadrangle. It is a real out-door mixing celebration.

We would like to invite you up some evening to enjoy the formalities of the occasion and see Dave in action. If you ever come this way, the next eight weeks, we'd be happy to have you.

Coach William S. Fradis
3766 Bedford Avenue
Brooklyn, New York

Dear Coach Fradis:

I have just received your airmail special regarding painting the soles of basketball players' shoes when they are to play on a slick floor.

The substance I used was liquid belt dressing. The old belt dressing, which is used to keep the belts from slipping off the rollers, was a non-liquid substance and had to be heated before it could be applied to the soles of the shoes. However, the newer dressing is a liquid and may be applied with a brush.

This dressing is dark brown in color and will mark up the floor terribly bad, and they may want to shoot you for using it. However, it does the job and will aid your players in keeping contact with the floor.

Later you will have to use benzene gasoline to take the dressing off the soles of the shoes, which is quite a job, but it is worth it, especially when the boys are taking a chance on cracking their elbows on a slick floor.

I trust this information will reach you in time, and I hope you are successful in the tournament.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Dr. Allen:

I recently read an account of a game played during the 1939-40 basketball season between Kansas University and the University of Oklahoma, in which you solved the "terrifically slick Forum floor" by painting some substance on the soles of your players' basketball shoes which enabled them to stop, pivot and change direction without losing footing.

I am faced with the same problem that you were, my team having to play the final game of a tournament upon a waxed dance floor. I would therefore be greatly obliged if you would write and advise me what substance you employed at the particular game to which I have had reference previously in this letter.

As this game will be played on Wednesday night, April 9th, I would appreciate your reply by airmail, if possible, in order that I may receive it that morning. Otherwise, I will be unable to apply this substance prior to game time.

Thanking you for your kind consideration in your attention to all of the above, and wishing you continued success in the fine and noteworthy achievements that have characterized your association with Kansas University, I am,

Very sincerely yours,

Famous Deaf Mute Pitcher Visits Here

Above, Dalton "Dummy" Fuller, visits with Luther "Dummy" Taylor, famous N. Y. Giants pitcher of the early 1900's. Taylor visited relatives here this week. He is one of the nominees for the Hall of Fame, conducted by the Old Timers association. Both of the friends are deaf mutes and both all around athletes in their youth.

A teammate of Christy Mathewson and Joe McGinnity, under John McGraw, Dummy Taylor was a member of the Giants who played in the first established, official world series in 1905, against the Athletics. He is a native of Kansas, thus eligible for the Hall of Fame award, going to those born in the state, and being present or former residents.

Taylor started his major league career with the New York Giants in 1908, where he played through the season of 1908 after which he was in the International league during 1909-10-11-12, ending his career in Topeka where he was with the Western league club during the season of 1913.

He recalls that previous to his going up to the big time, he was called to pitch a game for Sedgwick against a negro team, which was considered the best in this vicinity. The negroes made three successive hits in the first inning, but with the bases filled Taylor struck out the next three batters and from then he worked all right.

One of Taylor's prized possessions is a lifetime pass signed by both Harridge and Frick entitling him to see any game in either league and he was wearing a watch bearing a fancy inscription, which was presented to him by San Diego, Cal., where Taylor played alongside Mike Donlin, Frank Chance and Harry Steinfeldt in the Winter Coast league during the 1901 season.

His early years in Kansas were spent partly as an instructor of baseball at the Olathe School for the Deaf, where he also played football and basketball, serving as manager of both teams. That is where he became acquainted with Fuller, teaching the Wichita mute his early baseball and assisting in his development in the other two.

Taylor is one of the boys' house-fathers at Jacksonville, Ill., where one of the largest schools for the deaf in the United States is located. He is en route to California to visit a sister whom he has not seen for 19 years.
