Dear Cecil:

I just merely want to tell you that it was good to hear from you, and only wish that I could be down there on New Year's Day to see that "rambling wreck from Georgia Tech" (I am afraid) put the skids under Missouri.

I do not believe the Missouri boys are tough enough for those Georgians!

Last summer I assisted in conducting a coaching school at Georgia Tech. I have known Alec for a long time and he is a shrewd, keen drillmaster.

Some time, if I ever get fired from coaching basketball, I am going to slip down to the summer cline and get you to show me around. Until then I imagine I will keep on hitting the ball.

With all good wishes, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education and Recreation,
Varsity Basketball Coach.
