

Can't be interested - as there is too much money involved with out of state fees, etc. The boy can get much more at any of the schools in Texas than we can offer, and if he is good football player, the southern schools would not let him get away.