

December 18, 1937.

Mr. T. C. Forrester,
Rochester School for the Deaf,
1545 St. Paul Street,
Rochester, New Hampshire. York?

Dear Superintendent Forrester:

I am mailing to you one only copy of "Better Basketball". I am autographing the same for you and the boys.

I have had very many rare and happy experiences with some of the schools for the deaf. Luther W. Taylor, a great pitcher for the New York Giants, and a former coach at the School for the Deaf at Olathe, Kansas, is one of my very good friends. Both Mrs. Taylor and Dummy were great basketball fans, and I always took an interest in their school. I was at that time coaching at Baker University, and both Mr. and Mrs. Taylor would visit our games and enjoy them very much, speaking very rapidly in their own language.

Three or four years ago I spoke to the boys at the Illinois School for the Deaf at Jacksonville, Illinois. Mrs. Allen and I stayed all night at the school and had a wonderful time.

I want you to know that I appreciate your valued order and trust that the boys of your school will enjoy my new book. The price of the book is $4.00. I am giving you a 10% discount, the regular library discount, and am adding the postage.

Sincerely yours,

Varsity Basketball Coach,
Director of Physical Education.

FCA:AH