Dear Col. Baldwin:

I find that I have neglected to thank you for your organization's very fine cooperation in loaning us eight blankets when we drove to Manhattan for the Kansas Aggie-Kansas basketball game on January 20.

The weather was cold and disagreeable and the boys were full of flu, so these blankets contributed very materially to their health and comfort, as well as to our keeping the boys in the best shape possible.

We have always had wonderful cooperation and courtesy from Sergt. Roy. We want you to know that we in the Athletic Department appreciate this very much.

With all good wishes, I am,

Sincerely yours,
