Dr. Forrest C. Allen
Robinson Gymnasium

My dear Dr. Allen:

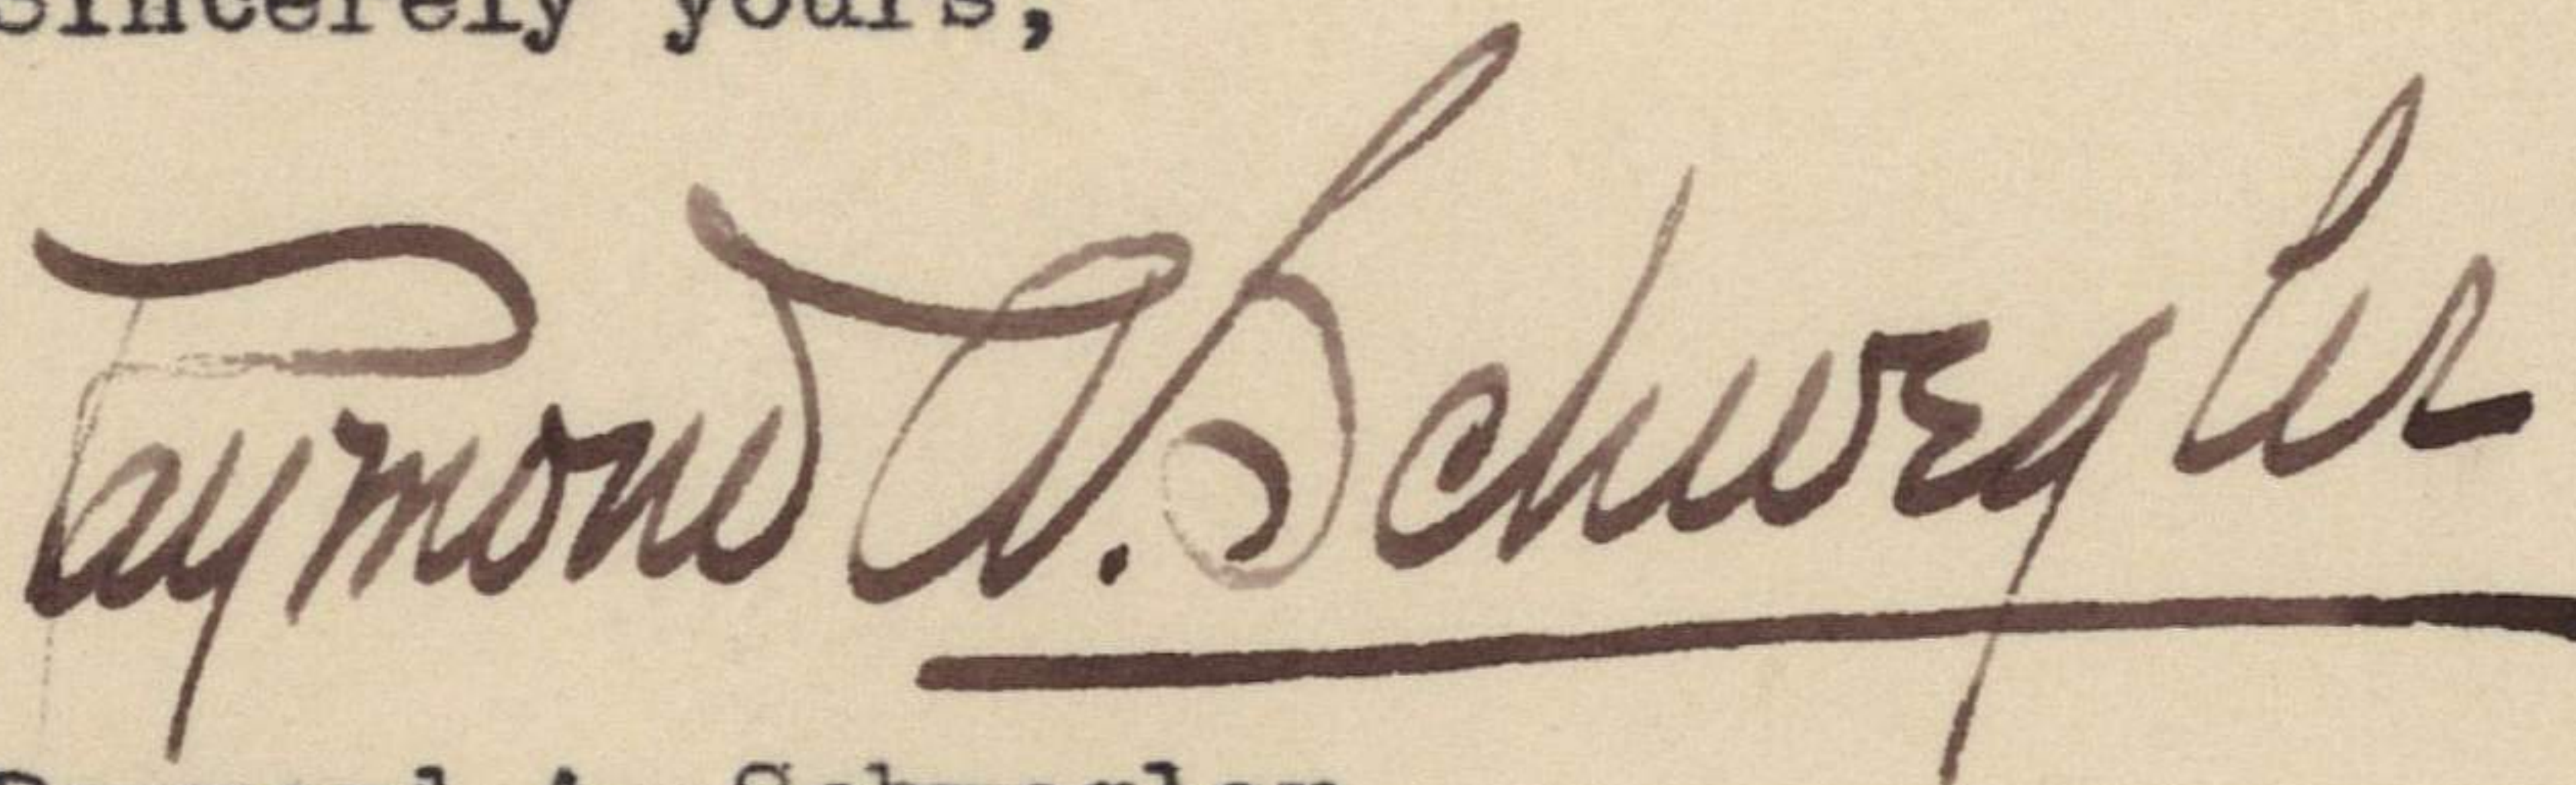

The other day I found on my desk a Christmas package all neatly done up in merry ribbon and stimulating Christmas wrapping. On looking within I found a copy of your new book.

I want to thank you very, very much indeed for your generous thoughtfulness in this connection. I have looked it over with much interest and want to congratulate you upon the book as a book and on the really interesting and stimulating way in which you present your case.

Long may the book live, and generously may it contribute to the author's health, length of life, and success!

With best seasonal greetings for yourself and family, I beg to remain,

Sincerely yours,
