Program

FOR FRESHMEN and NEW STUDENTS

UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS

SEPTEMBER 17-25, 1938

General Information

New students, particularly freshmen, should read this folder carefully, and keep it by them during the opening days of the fall semester.

All students entering the University for the first time, regardless of their classification, must be present at (1) the psychological examination and (2) the physical examination. In addition to these, all entering freshmen are required to attend (3) the meeting on Monday morning of new students by schools (except for students in the School of Fine Arts), (4) the convocations on Monday and Tuesday evenings, and (5) the New Student Induction on Thursday evening.

At the psychological examination you will be given an attendance card, which will be punched to record your attendance at required meetings.

(a) No student who has not taken the psychological examination will be allowed to register without posting a bond of five dollars, which will be forfeited unless he takes the examination at the first opportunity. The examination precedes registration, being held at 9 a.m., Saturday, September 17, in Hoch Auditorium. Be on time for the psychological examination. At 9 o'clock sharp the doors of the Auditorium will be closed, and latecomers will not be admitted.

(b) Registration is held in the basement of Frank Strong hall. You must register according to the following schedule, the letter referring to the first letter of your last name:

SEPTEMBER 23, FRIDAY

10:00 a.m. First All-University convocation, Hoch Auditorium. All students should attend.

4:30 p.m. Meeting of student counsellors of freshmen men. Place to be announced.

SEPTEMBER 25, SUNDAY

3:30-5:30 p.m. At home to all University women, Corbin Hall.

The Advising of Students

Much time and energy are devoted to the advising of students at the University of Kansas. During Freshman Week this work is carried on by two large groups of student counsellors, trained by and under the direction of Professor Henry Werner, Men's Student Adviser, and Professor Elizabeth Meguiar, Adviser of Women. These counsellors try to help new freshmen orient themselves here by offering information concerning the University and student life in Lawrence.

In regard to academic matters, however, whether at enrollment time or later in the year, the advising is in the hands of faculty members. Advising activities center in the offices of the deans of the various schools. In the School of Engineering there is an especially selected staff member who devotes much of his time to conferences with students; in the largest school, the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, the dean has the assistance of a large corps of faculty advisers, to whom groups of students are assigned for help in enrollment and for regular consultations.

Every new student should make certain that he knows to whom to go for advice. He should not fear to come into the office of his dean when he requires help or counsel.

Concerning problems which are personal or non-academic, students should feel free to call upon the Men Student's Adviser and the Adviser of Women.

Dean R. A. Schwegler,
School of Education.

Dear Dean Schwegler:

Thank you for calling my attention to the fact that a meeting for freshmen in the School of Education had not been set up for this fall.

We have arranged to use the auditorium in Frank Strong Hall at 9:30 Monday morning, September 19, for this meeting. I trust this will be satisfactory with you.

I shall be glad to cooperate with you in every way possible to make this an informative meeting for our freshmen and new students entering this fall.

Very sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

I have reserved Central Administration Auditorium, at 9:30 Monday morning, Sept. 19, for the meeting of freshmen in the School of Education.

My dear Dr. Allen:

I note that the program for freshmen and new students for 1938 does not list a meeting for freshmen in the School of Education. One probably should be set up at 9:30 on the 19th of September so that we can give any preliminary information to our students.

Will you arrange the place and let me know so that we can call such a meeting?

My dear Dr. Allen:

I have your note concerning the use of the Rogers Strength Index charts in Dr. Lapp's course in Tests and Measurements.

Ordinarily the University departments have made provision for the needs of their department during the summer from the regular funds appropriated to that department.

Our own department has no extra appropriation during the summer session and we will do well to come out even at the end of the year. The summer session emergency fund, which formerly could be called on for a few small expenditures, has been eliminated completely. I would, therefore, suggest that you might find it possible to purchase this material from your next year's appropriation.

I am very sorry not to be able to help you out in this instance.

Sincerely yours,

According to Section II of the University catalogue the Department of Education offers four courses in the curriculum field. These courses are S292, B262, A271 and A280. It will be noted that two of these courses are listed with administration courses, one with secondary education, and one with courses in educational sociology. According to the description of these courses there is no order in which they are to be pursued by students and there is a lack of sequence in the content of these courses. In view of these conditions the following recommendations are made to the faculty of the School of Education:

(1) That the title and description of S292 be changed to the following:

S292 An Introduction to the Study of the Curriculum---Three hours credit. An orientation course in the curriculum emphasizing the place of the school in society, past and present influences upon the curriculum, current curriculum practices, basic principles and approaches to curriculum development, administrative organization for curriculum revision, and curriculum evaluation. Prerequisite: the Fundamentals Group or its equivalent.

(2) That courses A280 and B262 be withdrawn and the following courses be added:

S293 S393 Construction of the Elementary School Curriculum Three hours credit. Primarily a laboratory course for teachers and administrators interested in the elementary school curriculum. The findings of scientific research in this field will be surveyed and recent courses of study and types of curricula will be critically examined. Each student will work on a definite curriculum problem and students are invited to bring curriculum problems from their own school for special study. Prerequisite: for S293 the Fundamentals Group and S292, for S393 15 hours of Education including S292.

S294 S394 Construction of Secondary School Curricula---Three hours credit. Primarily a laboratory course for secondary school teachers and principals. The findings of recent secondary school curriculum studies, new courses of study, and types of curricula will be analyzed. Each student will formulate a definite curriculum problem for special study. Prerequisite: for S294 the Fundamentals Group and S292, for S394 15 hours of Education including S292.

(3) That the title and description of A271 be changed to the following:

A271 A371 Administration of the Curriculum---Two hours credit. Intended for superintendents, principals and other staff members charged with the organization, installation and administration of the curriculum. Discussion, investigation, and reports on the following and other related topics. Special responsibilities of the administrator in initiating and directing curriculum construction; administrative set-up, methods, procedures and costs of operation of temporary and continuous programs; special problems involved in organizing both the integrated and subject matter types of curricula; techniques for evaluation and appraisal of procedures; organization of state and local programs. Prerequisites: 15 hours of education.

(4) That the title and description of S399 be changed to the following:

S399 Research in Curriculum Construction---- Two to eight hours of credit. The work of this course consists of intensive and independent work done under the general direction of the instructor in charge. To secure credit in this course the results of the study must, save in the case of candidates for the degree of Master of Education, be presented in the form of an acceptable thesis. Prerequisites: S292 and either S293 or S294.

(5) That the college be advised of the desirability of their giving credit for S292 instead of B262 as is now the case.

July 19, 1938.

Dean R. A. Schwegler,
School of Education,
University of Kansas.

Dear Dean Schwegler:

This will acknowledge receipt of your very kind letter of the 13th instant enclosing the names of boys who are either on the probation list or who were asked to attempt some other activity than educational here at the University. From the top of the list down, may I give you my confidential rating of these boys? I will also throw in some background of information that I obtained from various sources throughout last year, which may enable you to further consider their cases.

Morris Belshe - he was a Ban Johnson baseball player and a good football player who felt that most colleges and universities exist primarily for individuals who have abundant physical skills. We have a rule in the conference which does not permit any athletes to participate for any outside organization during the time that a student is enrolled in school. The Ban Johnson baseball team (the local Green Brothers team) was to play a game before school was out. Belshe was to pitch for the Green Brothers team in that game. Some one advised Belshe not to pitch because that would make him ineligible if he played a game before final examinations were over. This happened to be the week before.

Belshe is quoted as saying, "Aw, shucks, Professor W. W. Davis will get me out of it." So you see he had the wrong conception regarding his own ability and the ability of fellows in responsible positions.

Howard Martin - he was a heavy, phlegmatic type, with much inertia. I met the boy in Chicago last summer with Monte Merkel and Warren Woody. Woody has asked me to attend a National League baseball game with him and to sell the boys the University of Kansas. Warren Woody is paying their tuition.

Martin ate his meals at one of the fraternity houses, of which he was not a member. He had the wrong conception of what it takes to get an education. I gave him an incomplete in the course he took with me.

John C. Nourse - his father is the Nourse oil man ("Business is good"). Nourse attended military school in Minnesota before coming to the University. His father has always had a great desire for him to make a varsity letter, perhaps more than to graduate. He was a good high school and military school athlete, but while at the University did not train and did not study much. I have it on very good authority that his father is sending him to Baker University this next year so that he can make the teams down there.

Myron Piggott - he came in the second semester and I am not well enough acquainted with him to know much about him.

Irvin Travis - he is one of the football players that perhaps entered this department with the thought that it was the best medium to help an athlete. However, he seems very purposeful and he is a very likeable and fine-looking chap. I do not think that he has been handled very vigorously while in high school. His football, perhaps, paid his way for him in his academic work.

Clarence Voss - came from Blue Mound, Kansas, the second semester, and from the beginning I have been impressed that he is one of these so-called "little big shots". He has more of a social complex. He is rather good looking, large, and should be a good student, but I think he plays around too much and studies too little. I do not see much future for him the way he is going.

Earl Close - this boy is a fine chap and I think he is very purposeful, but I think his days in school are numbered. I do not believe he has the capacity to do exceptional or superior work. He is a boy who came down from Chicago without any money, and with not too strong a background. It is my opinion that if he had enough money so that he would not have to work he might make it with great concentration, but this is impossible under his financial set up.

There were several days last year that he did not eat, and he borrowed money from me to pay his laundry and get something to eat. He was prompt in repaying his debt, and I have a very high regard for him, although I do not believe that he could make it here at the University.

Marion Manderson - all of us know that he really never belonged here. I think it was fine of you to extend an extra semester to him. Certainly he has pituitary and suprarenal insufficiencies.

Thanking you for your letter, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

My dear Mr. Manderson:

We have checked over your record for the spring semester, 1938, and find that unfortunately you failed in 91 per cent of your work. Inasmuch as you had failed in 100 per cent of your work during the fall semester, this automatically withdraws you from the School of Education.

I am sorry that we were not able to provide you with instruction of a sort to catch your interest.

My dear Mr. Belshe:

We have checked over your scholastic record for the spring semester of 1938 and found that unfortunately you failed in more than 40 per cent of your work. Such failure automatically places you on probation for the next semester during which you enroll and involves reporting to me every two weeks so that we can discuss your progress and assist you in every possible way to work up to your possibilities.

We feel reasonably certain that you can do the work expected of a college student and shall be very happy to talk over with you the whole matter when you are back in Lawrence.

Cordial greetings and best wishes for a pleasant and profitable summer.

Professor J. W. Twente,
School of Education,
University of Kansas.

Dear Dr. Twente:

I wish to congratulate you on the splendid program of the State Educational Summer Conference. I feel that you and your committee have done a great service to the cause of Physical Education in choosing the general topic of "Physical Education and Recreation in the Public Schools".

I have heard very many enthusiastic comments about the whole program. One person remarked to me that he just didn't think it could be done, and was amazed at the interest displayed.

With best wishes, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Professor F. P. OBrien,
School of Education.

Dear Dr. OBrien:

I want to congratulate you on the splendid program planned for the State Educational Summer Conference. I believe the general subject, "Physical Education and Recreation in the Public Schools" was especially appropriate at this time. We have heard many very enthusiastic comments about the whole conference.

Monday evening I took Mr. Anderson and Mr. Sheppard, of the Kansas City schools, and his sister, to the train, and the Sheppards were very enthusiastic about the success of the day's program. They said they just didn't think it could be done, and they were amazed at the interest displayed.

I feel that you and your committee have done a great service to the cause of Physical Education.

Mr. Robert Fullem

~~Congress~~, New York
Congers,

My dear Mr. Fullem:

Under separate cover we are sending you a copy of the catalog of the University of Kansas.

In the General Information Section on page 23 you will find a statement of the fees. Nonresident students pay a matriculation fee of $20, an incidental fee of $37.50, a health fee of $5, and purchase an activity ticket at $6, making a total of $68.50 for the first semester. The second semester fees include only the incidental fee of $37.50, the health fee of $5, and the activity ticket at $2.75, making a total of $45.25.

Certain laboratory courses, such as Elemental Animal Biology and Physical Education, all skill courses, have laboratory fees. The amount is stated in Section 2 of the catalog along with the description of the courses.

Living expenses vary with the individual. An estimate of the probable living expenses is given on pages 25 and 26 of the catalog. A list of approved rooming houses for men may be obtained by writing to Mr. Henry Werner, Men Students' Advisor, Room 1, Strong Hall.

On pages 78 and 80 you will find the detailed statement of the four-year curiculum in Physical Education. This course leads to the degree of B. S. in Education. You have completed the high school requirements necessary before beginning on this course.

On page 79 you will find a list of the courses in which you would enroll during each semester of the four years. You will note that in each semester there is opportunity to take several hours of elective courses, either to apply on your academic minor (a subject you can teach in high school in addition to Physical Education or coaching), or in any other field in which you may be interested. You will receive a thorough groundwork of skills in Physical Education, learning how to participate in all of the sports and games, as well as learning the techniques for coaching these sports or officiating in them. You will also get a background of biological science in order to understand the human machine with which you will deal as an athletic coach or teacher.

If you are interested in participating in football, basketball, baseball, swimming, or track, you can go out for a freshman numeral your first year and for a varsity letter after you have completed one year of freshman training. In order to participate in these sports, you must have completed twenty-seven hours during the preceding year.

We shall be very happy to have you with us this fall. If either Dr. Forrest C. Allen, head of the Physical Education Department, or I can be of any assistance to you, we shall be very happy to have you write.

Sincerely yours,

Raymond A. Schwegler
Dean
