

fronts of war and are interesting to talk with.

There is a course here that I know that you would be interested in - Relaxation. It is being taught to the cadets to know how to relax the various muscles so they can go to sleep when in a battle front. Those in charge of the teaching and instruction seem to feel that the cadets are learning a great deal. Mr. St. Riley, former coach at Navy Teachers is one of the instructors, and he is "sold" on the course.

I watch the papers for the scores of the basket ball games back home, and I am pleased at the progress of your young team and I also know how the Big Six would be doing if you had Ray Evans and these others. They would have been back. We all know that it takes men like Ray to win a war.

I am keeping upon my officiating, tonight I work the Georgia Tech and our Pre-Flight game. Georgia Tech has an outstanding team.

Hoping that you are well I am

Respectfully Yours
