Dear Dr. Allen:

I was just sitting here thinking about next years basketball team. and after looking over the squad members, we will be ploying mostly with Sophomores and Juniors. Vance won't be there cause he is in the Air Corp. Sally graduates after the first semester. Buescher is in the army. and Dick Miller will be the only Senior.

That means that all of the two lower classes will be ploying together this year. that then means that we ought to have a "cracker-jack" team our Senior year, since the boys ployed together the preceding year with about the same team. Do you see what I mean? Gosh Doc, we could have the smoothest and fightnest team in the history of K.V. and that's because we will have the same
