Dear Sir:

We are today in receipt of a letter from the Reach Company regarding the two basketballs which you recently returned for replacement.

They have replaced one of the balls which we have sent to you by mail today. The other ball they cannot replace due to the fact that it has been punctured very badly and they feel it not a defect. Upon examining the ball we do find it is in a very bad condition, and it would be asking the manufacturers too much to replace a ball of this type when it has been punctured as badly as this one.

We do hope that the one ball which they have replaced will meet with your approval and we may have additional opportunity of serving you from time to time.

Yours very truly,
R. S. ELLIOTT ARMS CO.
