measure for their performance. Apparently they have been living up to those earlier greats.

We hope they win, always, but win, lose or draw we are all with them and proud of the fine team that has carried on through a difficult season and maintained a splendid record. The best of luck to them all. And to their coach who has turned out so many fine basketball teams and during the process has developed so many fine men.

This is a personal letter, Doc, and please say nothing about it to Fred Ellsworth of Dolph. Dolph apparently is peeved at me for some reason, why I do not know, but I wrote him about six months ago and he has not answered my letter.

That, however, is beside the point. Give 'em hell and plenty of it, and regardless of what happens we'll still feel certain that when better basketball teams are built, they'll be built at our alma mater.

Chosing regards, and here's a wish that all members of your family are well.
