

to meet Mrs. Allen. She has played no small part in helping my boy over some "rough places."

The nice things you have said about Howard are true because of the splendid training you have given him. You have not spoiled him with "soft jobs" and indulgences that would hurt him later in life. You have emphasized the finer things of life and have insisted on discipline. He is leaving the U. not only in good physical condition but with wholesome attitudes and is a well balanced dependable boy. I must say the relationship between my son and his coach has been a beautiful thing to watch.

I am especially happy about our sons' companionship. Bob has indeed been an inspiration to Howard.

I wish Bob's and Howard's publicity could be shared a little more evenly with their fine teammates. Personally I do not take sports writers very seriously but sometimes boys do.

Thanks again for the picture and letters.

With Best Wishes.

I am, Yours Truly,

Mrs Beulah Engleman
