Dear Fogg:

I want to thank you for your fine letter of February 5th and the basketball schedule which both dad and I have appreciated. The press out here is pretty poor and quite often doesn't print the results of games. We saw the Southwest Conference finals, but never did see an announcement when the Jayhawkers captured the Big Six. The enclosed article is probably old stuff to you, but I thought that possibly it might be of some value. This was in tonight's San Francisco Chronicle.

Also I would like to refer you to an excellent basketball article that I picked up in one of the industrial publications which is on my company's exchange list. This was an article by Hubert M. Dustin in the Gould Battery News published by the Gould Storage Battery Corp., Depew, N. Y., Vol. VIII, No. 9. There is a picture of Naismith in the article and a fairly good article on basketball as a whole - its past and future portrayed quite well.

Since I commute about seventeen miles to work each day, I almost always pick up some of the hitchhiking sailors to or from Camp Shoemaker. Last week I got one who was at the Iowa clinic and knew you. I don't remember his name but he told what a great guy you were and how swell your clinic was. Speaking of clinics I see you're in charge of 'the ten foot basket' show at the coming Kansas City NCAA meet. Hope you trounce the aggies - but (as you know) they're plenty hot.
