But enough of that.

Messner worked on the farm for a while. Now he is in Houston visiting relatives. Bruce is pushing ice. He says to tell you not to worry about him, that he'll be okay. I hope he does. He's taking Amer. Gov. by correspondence. He's looking fine, and growing too. He says he's planning to make that starting fine next year, and if anybody beats him out of his place, it'll be not without a fight. I like his spirit. I think he's kinda disgusted with his last year showings, both in basketball and studies.

Jack Floyd, his the running mate to Don Coulter, is planning to come up next year. He's got a lot of ability and I know he can go far. So be
