

Stitzpach and Evans, took the ball down the court on a fast break with Ray dumping in a set-up which proved to be the winning basket. The last few seconds were very exciting for the crowd and also the players. Fordham nearly scored but the ball was a little short and the game ended in a scramble for the ball with the score 31-30, Kansas.

Buecher found Ned Irish, basketball manager of the "Garden" to see if he got the ball for being game captain. Mr. Irish furnished John a ball and Bush relaxed a little.

After seeing Southern California beat NYU we went back to the hotel and got cleaned up. After this the group split with the boys going out to see the night life of New York. I was the guest of some friends, Mr. + Mrs. R. E. Brannan, and their son, Dilbert, who took me to Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe to eat and see the floor show. It was a very fine, high-class floor show and there were many very entertaining acts much as you would have expected to see in the old time vaudeville. One group of boys went out to see the Statue of Liberty and other points around New York.
