

John Buescher

We arrived at Ann Arbor, Michigan, at 2:23 Tuesday afternoon.

We took our luggage to the Memorial Union building on the campus of the University of Michigan.

We had our lunch about 3:00 in the Union building. While eating we had a distinguished visitor at our table. It was none other than Fielding H. Yost, the director of athletics at the University of Michigan. Mr. Yost was formerly coach of football at the University of Kansas.

On our way to basketball practice we passed the famous Ferry Field where many a football star played.

We practiced at the University of Michigan Intramural or Sports building. In this building they have five basketball courts in one gym. We practiced until 7:30 p. m. We then had our dinner at the Union Cafeteria.

After dinner we were given orders to be in by 9:30 p. m., or to go back home.

Some of the boys went to the show and others retired.

We slept in a dormitory on the hardest beds imaginable. Bob Johnson played quite a game of basketball in his sleep. Bill Hogben also did a very good job of keeping everyone else awake.

We were awakened at 5:45 in order to eat and catch our train for Detroit.