

miss Sullivan visited Perkins³ institute. This delighted Helen very much when she found she could talk to other blind children. She didn't feel so bad when she found many others were handicapped in the same way she was.

The story of Helen Keller should make one appreciate being physically fit in every way.

This story shows how the sense of touch can be developed when there is a loss of some of the other special senses.