

November 5, 1937.

Miss E. C. Reifler,
Smith-Grievess Publishing Co.,
Kansas City, Missouri.

Dear Miss Reifler:

I am wondering if you will send me two only copies of "My Basketball Bible". It might be well to have a couple on hand, and if I should not use the two before you exhaust your supply, if you would write me I would send the other copy back immediately upon your request.

We have use for one, but these belated calls make me feel that I should be prepared and have an extra one on hand. I will thank you if you will give this your prompt attention.

It was good to see you and Miss Bearg (I have forgotten her married name). And of course all these compliments profusely strewn by you and Miss Bearg about an old man looking young naturally hit the vanity spot.

With every good wish, I am

Very sincerely yours,

FCA:AH

Director of Physical Education.