

In Position. A ball when it rests opposite its arch so that by one stroke of the mallet it may be driven through it.

Leading Ball. The first ball from home.

Loose Croquet. Croqueting a ball (after having placed the two balls in contact) by striking your own ball without placing your foot on it, causing both balls to fly off at different angles.

Made Its Arch. A term applied to a ball when it has passed through an arch.

Making a Point. Running an arch; tolling the turning-stake, or roqueting a ball — each in its proper place or turn.

Making Position. Roqueting or ricocheting a ball already in position.

Out of Position. A ball whose locality is such that the player can not drive it through the proper arch by a single stroke of the mallet.

Over-running an Arch. Driving a ball outside and beyond the arch intended to be passed through.

Pegging. The same as staking.

Pushed. A ball, when the face of the mallet is allowed to rest against it, and it is propelled without the mallet being drawn back.

Ricochet. The act of roqueting two or more balls by one stroke of the mallet.

Roquet. To roquet a ball is to cause your ball, by a stroke of the mallet, to come in contact with it, either directly or indirectly.

Roquet-Croquet. Taking a ball that has roqueted another, and, placing it near the roqueted ball; then, without placing the foot on the ball, striking it with the mallet, driving both balls to any point or points
