Dear Dean Swarthout,

Margaret Gurley was graded C on her entrance physical examination in September 20, 1942, because of a physical defect which interferes with activities during the winter months. This is corroborated by her family physician.

For some reason she insisted on being permitted to enroll in a minor sport of her choice from September to November 1. Subsequently she failed to attend all of her classes due to her physical disability.

In view of the fact that she should not have been permitted to enroll in physical exercise, it is my recommendation that she be excused from the physical education classes which she missed.

Yours truly,

Ralph I. Canuteson, M.D.
