Dear Sir:

You will recall having received from us not long ago a sample of Goodyear Airfoam which we thought might be of some possible value in use as padding for basket ball uniforms.

You possibly have had an opportunity to do some experimental work with this material since that time and it occurs to us that you might like to have further comments or suggestions from us if you have any particular problems in connection with the use of the material that are not solved entirely to your satisfaction. If so, we shall be delighted to be of any possible assistance to you.

Yours very truly,

Manager - Airfoam Sales
