

September 5, 1939.

Mr. C. E. Bilheimer,
Department of Physical Education,
Gettysburg College,
Gettysburg, Pa.

Dear Mr. Bilheimer:

I have just returned from my vacation in Atlanta where I conducted a coaching school for the Georgia Athletic Coaches Association, and I find your letter of August 16th on my desk.

I regret to say that we are dedicating a field house on December 8th at one of the nearby colleges here and it will be impossible for me to be with you on December 9th. I assure you I would consider it an honor and a privilege to be with you on that date, but geographical difficulties hinder me. If at some time in the future you should decide to ask me I would be pleased.

I have conducted clinics for Mr. Floyd Rowe at Cleveland, Ohio, on a couple of occasions. We greatly enjoyed the contact with the Ohio people.

I would be pleased to have you inform me what is the usual honorarium for men such as Mr. Bee and Dr. Carlson.

Very cordially yours,

Director of Physical Education and Recreation,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

FCA:AH