

October 11, 1937.

Mr. William M. Gray,
The Sunshine Mantle Co.,
Chanute, Kansas.

Dear Bill:

Your good favor of the 7th instant at hand. I passed on the information to Earl Falkenstien and he told me that if you never paid the fifty cents it would be entirely O.K. with him, as you had already done more than any one individual he knew of toward getting capable and intelligent material to Kansas.

But since he is the financial secretary and he has a daily ticket report to make out, he of course was forced to send that little reminder. But it was only a business deal, and not the desire of his own heart. He knows what fine work you have done.

I understand the boys ran over everything but the goal line down at Wichita, and they waited too late to get over as many times as was necessary.

I hope to see you Saturday at the Ames game.

With every good wish, I am

Sincerely yours,
