Basketball Banter

By BOB BOCK

We believe it can safely be said that the intramural basketball program just completed has probably been the most extensive and the most speedily run off program ever, anywhere at any time. For in this sixteen day period nearly 35 games were played. Taking one team for example, the Tennessee Club played nine games—all the teams played at least seven—in the sixteen days, which, excluding the week-ends, is nearly a game every night. In fact, the champions played three games in the last two nights.

Yes, it probably was too much basketball, but the players received so much enjoyment out of the games that is most certainly was worth while. Weather conditions were ideal with the many rains, the officiating was good, and the general spirit and sportsmanship of the players was especially commendable. It can be truly said that no place can the true character, fighting spirit, ability to "get along", cooperate, and work together be better brought out than on a basketball court.

Dr. Allen stated Wednesday night that since the basketball program had taken so much of the boys' time intramural team activities such as softball will not begin until after two or three weeks. However, varsity basketball practice will be scheduled for those interested some time after July 1, he added.

The reason for playing so many games in such a short period was to have a "speedup" intramural program for all the boys in the Navy Reserves—and many of the players were—enabling them to take part in league competition before they are called July 1.

McKay-Nearing Engagement Told

Phi Gamma Delta has announced the engagement of Jim McKay, College sophomore from Eldorado, to Martha Nearing, Chi Omega, of Kansas City, Mo.

The pinning took place at a dinner party at the home of Miss Nearing in Kansas City Saturday night. Christine Turk, who assisted with the pinning, received a corsage of gardenias, and Miss Nearing received an orchid.

Miss Nearing attended the University last year.
