poor condition and this infection centered around some chigger bites which I acquired in August during the trip when we first saw you - plus a blister on my foot, occasioned by excessive walking in Kansas City on the night of the K. U. - J. C. U. football game. The "excessive" walking was due to stalled street cars, no cabs available and Helen's insistence that we must be ~~back~~ in Lawrence by 1 A.M. So much for my personal woes and I'll bet in all your varied and colorful career you ^{have} never been exposed to such a "pest" as I, and that you're wondering what you have done to deserve it.

As to Helen, she hasn't said much about her classes - so I presume everything is or will be all right. Yesterday was her 18th birthday and her first one away
