

August 28, 1944.

Dr. J. N. Haddock,
Shawnee, Oklahoma.

Dear Dr. Haddock:

I am sending the brochure, "Death and Taxes", by Frederick W. Lang, the originator of the foot arch normalizer. Mr. Lang is quite a gentleman, having received his LL.B. from Yale University. I think you will find this brochure quite interesting.

I trust that your arch normalizer is doing good service. I prescribed one for Dr. Perry and delivered it to him last Friday evening. He seems well pleased with it. Mine is doing yeoman service, and frankly, I would not take fifty dollars for it if I could not replace it with another one.

It was a great pleasure to enjoy our golf game, and even though the last day's happenings were rather distasteful, yet I want to tell you that I recovered most of the money that was lost. The young man at the club house finally confessed that he took the money and I have got $30 of the $47 back. So everything is on an even keel again.

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

FCA:AH
Enc.