Recreation Training Open for Villagers

ANNE LIVINGSTON

"You never know where good leaders will come from," says Anne Livingston, Recreation Training Specialist of the National Recreation Association, who will arrive here Tuesday, May 20, to open a Leadership Institute for all individuals interested in recreation, both professional and volunteer.

Summer Sports Being Planned

At a meeting of the Sunflower Athletic Association in the Community Building, April 17, ways and means of providing sports and amusements for the Villagers this summer were discussed. James Drake, Mrs. George Miller, Ray Coulson, Mrs. Wayne Sellers, Wally Helm and Charles Hagen were selected as a committee to confer with the housing manager, Ira Nuzum and tenant aide, Margaret Ford, regarding the assistance that could be expected from the FPHA.

At this conference the committee was asked to list the equipment that would be needed and the space required for the installation of the playing fields. These requirements have been placed in the hands of the FPHA Regional Office in Kansas City and immediate action is expected.

Among other things the committee's plans call for two baseball diamonds and one tennis court and bleacher space to accommodate about three hundred.
