Dear Miss Hutchison:

I wish to congratulate you and Ray Evans on the wonderful step that you have taken. When two fine people make a decision of that kind I am sure everybody is happy for all concerned. I wish the best in everything for you and Ray.

With kindest regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

Dear Bobby:

I got your good letter dated November 7th, and doubtless you will be moved from this point before you hear from me. Anyhow, I assure you it was a great pleasure to know of your progress and to know that you are enjoying your work. I am glad to know that Pauline is stationed with you as clerk in the civil service there. That makes it nice for everybody.

It is good to know that you appreciate the breaks that come to you when they do. It is always good to have a letter from you, and although I may not write as often as I wish due to excessive work here, but you may rest assured that I will write to you as often as I can.

It will be a great pleasure to have an opportunity to visit with you after the fuss is over. I am glad to know that you are an optimist. I feel the same way as you.

Thanks for all your good wishes.

Sincerely yours,

THE RECEIVING STATION
Naval Operating Base
Norfolk, Virginia

Saturday - November 7.

Dear Dr. Allen,

You know doubt have heard through my father that I have been assigned to duty at the Receiving Station in Norfolk.

At first, I had no physical instruction in my work, but now I give calisthenics and physical drill to about 500 men daily. In addition to this duty I am still in charge of a barracks of 80 Prisoners at Large and Veneerals of the Navy. It's all very interesting and I hope in time to take over purely physical education work.

I appreciate all you have done for me to make my present position possible. I realize now, even more than ever before, the importance in these times of a college education. Without it you're just "one of the many" in the service. But with it, you have a chance to do your part in your own line of work.

Pauline is also stationed here with me as a Civil Service Clerk. She has had one promotion already in just a months time. We're very happy being together and fully realize how lucky we are.

THE RECEIVING STATION
Please give your family our very best regards. That's one thing we miss so much out here — our friends back home!

I have talked several times with Paul Masoner and Bill Lenhart and wife. I also saw Bob Gilliland and Bus Davidson for a brief time while they were here.

I have a lot I'd like to tell from out here — but will have to wait until the war is over.

I do believe the tide is changing and I do look for an early victory. This isn't foolish optimism either — I sincerely believe we're on our way now!

Best Wishes for another
Championship team this winter.

Mr. Lacy Haynes, Jr.,
George Washington Inn,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Lacy:

I am very happy to have your nice letter of October 12, and glad to know that your notebook is so filled with the addresses of so many pretty girls that you feel a very definite responsibility to correspond with them. It must be a tough life that you are living there in Washington, isn't it, Lacy? Here's lots of continued good luck to you.

Regarding Ray Evans, he really is the main cog on this football team. He does everything that is possible for a back to do and does it in a par-excellent fashion. He got a nasty rap in the eye and it was closed so that he could not see out of it, but he is on the mend now and doing well. We are expecting him to play a great game against Nebraska this Saturday. He always does that, however.

You bet, we will have three good seats for the game in New York with Fordham.

I had a nice visit with your dad and mother at their home a couple of weeks ago. They are grand people and I always feel as if I am in the midst of friends when I walk in that domicile on Washington Boulevard. Both your dad and mother seem to be well and happy. I visited at your home the day they received the sad news of the passing of Mr. Longan. The flash just came over the telephone while I was there, and knowing how much your dad thought of Mr. Longan I could appreciate his deep sense of loss.

Your dad also spoke to me about your following Mike Getto and the Brooklyn Dodgers. Mike will be mighty happy to entertain you, I know.

The physical conditioning program is keeping me on the move, but we are all enjoying it. You may count on the tickets and as soon as we get a little further along in basketball we will write you again. Keep us informed on the news in Washington, won't you, Lacy?

With all good wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

ADDRESS REPLY TO THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY
AND REFER TO INITIALS
AND No.

NAVY DEPARTMENT
WASHINGTON

George Washington Inn
Washington, D.C.
Oct. 12, 1942
2 a.m.

Dear Doc.

I am sorry that I have not found time to answer your letter before now but it just seems that I have been so busy doing nothing that the time has just passed on and I havn't written. I hope that you will forgive me, but you know how it is, (So many gals that I have to write to. I wish that were true but it is a nice thought anyway.)

I have eight hours to kill on this watch and anly two of them are gone. All of my work for the night is finished and there is nothing left to do but read the papers and anything else there is to read in the office. Great life I lead back here in the nations capital.

I notice that Ray seems to be one of the main cogs in the football team this year and although the team seems to be doing very poorly, the papers back here give ~~him~~ him all of the play in the stories that they run on the KU games. I hope that he does not ruin that knee this season.

If I am still in this town on the 28th of Dec. and it looks like I will be, I want you to save three good seats to the game in NY for me for I will be sure and get up there. The reason that I will need three is that I think that the folks will be back here then and I want them to come up with me. I don't think that there will be much of a chance for me to get home before the basketball season is over, so that is the only time I will get to see the team play. Of course I will follow them in the Star and I hope that you don't let me down for I have to depend on you to keep the school in the victory column.

I am going up to NY to the Dodger football game next weekend and hope to have dinner with Mike. He may be to busy but I still have the hope of seeing him at least.

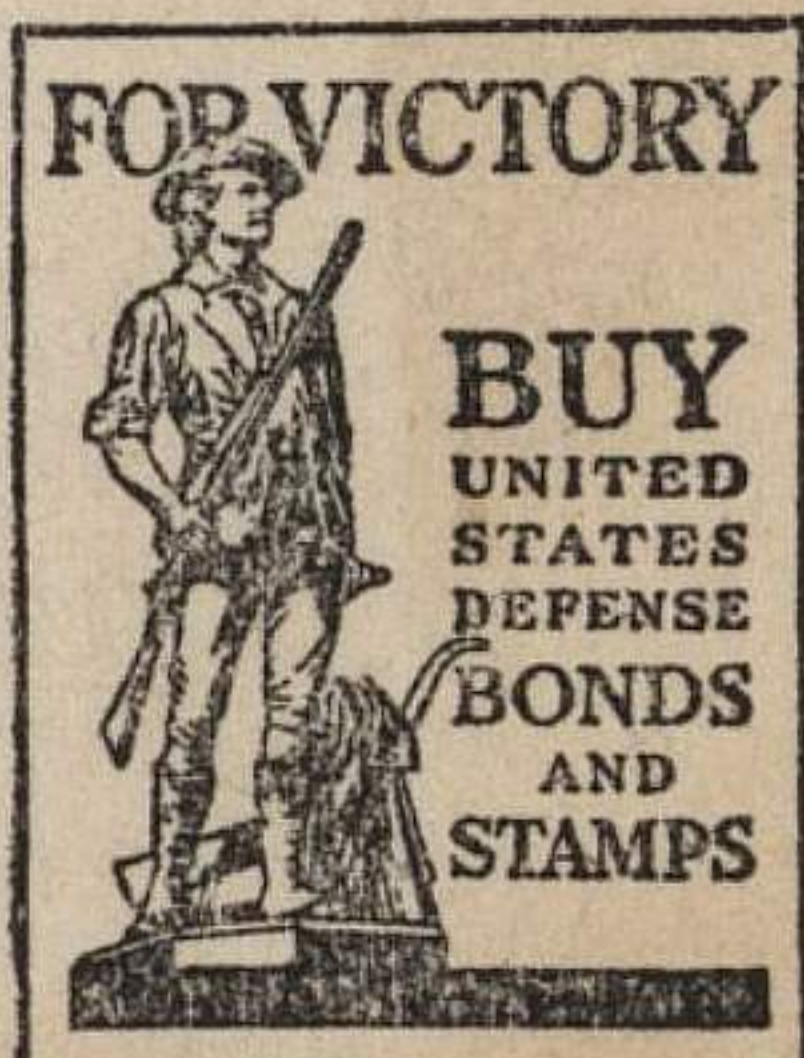

I take it from your letter that the Phys. Ed. program is keeping you on the move. I guess that the old school has changed a lot in the three months that I have been away from it. Everything else in the country has though so it is only natural.

This is the worst town that I have ever been in. The work is a lot of fun but the town is rotten. Everything is so crowded that you get shoved all over the place even on the side streets. Tell all of the gang hello for me and ~~that~~ all the old stuff.

I had better sign off now and go check the Press Assc. tickers to see if Adm. Nimitz has issued a communique. Best of luck in the coming season and will see you in NY.

Your pal.

Ray

Dear Dr. Allen and the members of the Community Recreation class:

I want to thank all of you for the surprise party you had for me. I mean it was really a surprise, too.

IRVEN and I were married Sunday and we've just come back from a trip to Colorado. He really got a kick out of the mock wedding and especially the 8 girls and the bat boy.

It was so nice of you all to think of doing something for me. Thanks for the gift and everything.

See you Wednesday in class.

Sincerely,

Ruth Kelley Hayden.

Mr. Gwinn Henry,
1646 Massachusetts St.,
Lawrence, Kansas.

Dear Gwinn:

Some two weeks ago I was in your office and spoke to you about a small contribution for the Red Cross. We are still mopping up on the unfinished business so we can turn over to this very worthy organization every contribution.

I heard Julia Henry Nessly speak at Rotary Club and she told about the Red Cross furnishing the passengers coming back from Samoa clothing and actual money when they were in need of it. She says, "You can't give too much to the Red Cross", and I know that she has already told you of the fine work done by that organization. However, it is not necessary for me to repeat that because I know that you know this as well as I do.

We have not had one turn-down for the Red Cross this year and I thought it would be better to write you a letter than to hunt you up. You remember you promised us $10.00, and I am sending you a blank check with a self-addressed envelope so that you might mail it to me. A lot of us gave $50.00 this time, so I know that you won't mind sending this on so I can get it in to the proper authorities at the earliest possible date.

Very cordially yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

Dear Gwinn:

We are trying to wind up the Red Cross Drive this week, and in checking over last year's contributions I notice that you gave $10.00 to the fund.

Won't you at least duplicate that amount this year? The response of our faculty and students has been wonderful, and we want to give everyone an opportunity to give to this very important cause. I will be happy to hear from you this week.

Cordially yours,

Director of Physical Education,

Mr. Strong Hinman,
Asst. Superintendent of Schools,
Topeka, Kansas.

Dear Strong:

I would like to write you concerning the qualifications of Helen Grace Cooper, a teacher now employed in the Lawrence public schools. Miss Cooper graduated from Kansas State Teachers College at Emporia three years ago, receiving her B. S. in Education in 1940.

Miss Cooper for the past year has roomed in our home with three other Lawrence teachers. I have had opportunity to observe her work both at the Pinckney School in Lawrence and at another time when she supervised and directed a peasant dance of her pupils for our between-halves entertainment at one of our varsity basketball games this winter. The dance was very well done indeed. She received many compliments from a great many sources, showing that her work was much appreciated by the patrons. I have also observed her work in the school and I think she is a superior teacher. She does the physical education work for the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades.

I believe that Miss Cooper has interviewed you in Topeka, so you doubtless have more information regarding the work that she has been doing than I have. However, I do want to commend her to you, and if you have a vacancy I would appreciate it if you would give her careful consideration.

She has several reasons for desiring to make the change. I believe she has a sister teaching in the Topeka system, and of course the natural advantage of moving to a larger system than the present one appeals to her.

With all good wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

Dear Phog;

I was wondering if what I wrote about the game would reach you and what your reaction would be. I sent Elliott a clipping hoping that it would fall into your hands as I think people should know what is being said about them.

Your remark about DeVictor was out of character and unworthy of you. I know a number of the men at Columbia but have never had the pleasure of meeting Mr. DeVictor. My ideas were strictly my own, without any prompting, altho to be truthful I was watching for some things as the result of comments by basketball fans here who had seen Kansas earlier in the season.

It is my understanding of the rules that a trainer or coach can go on the floor any time that time has been called and when he received recognition from the referees AND that the referee should be with him when he is administering to the team or a player. Am I wrong? My column, as much as referred to the trainer on the floor, was based on my assumption.

I noted that Nesmith did not ask for permission or recognition during the first game and not in the second until Ed Ellis had called him on it.

Maybe Nesmith isn't a basketball player but I noted that while he was on the bench that he was continually coaching the players near him. If he doesn't know any more about the game than you indicated you are taking an awful risk in letting him yell out advice.

I am heartily with you on the idea of letting players communicate when they enter the game. There is no way of enforcing a rule against it so why have such a rule? As to the trainer transmitting information and advice that isn't the point. If the rules say he should be accompanied by an official either the rule should be enforced or dropped from the book. It seems a silly rule anyhow but if it is in the book something should be done about.

A couple of years ago after a football game at Lawrence I asked Gwinn Henry what a coach could drum into his players' heads in the final huddle that he hadn't already taught them and his reply was "nothing". That coincided with my own idea and I think the pre-game and pre-half huddles around a coach are being overdone in all lines of sport.

Enthusiasm on the bench and in the game is commendable but isn't it carrying it a bit too far to have players calling the fouls all during a game, particularly in unison? To my mind it has either one of two effects on the officials. If they are easily swayed they are liable to react with the players. If they are not susceptible isn't continued heckling, which it actually amounts to, liable to make the official a bit mad and likely to call the plays the other way? I have seen both reactions in different games and it is my theory that the less said to an official about and during his handling of the game the better he will work as he is able to concentrate on his job.

It is my thought that honest criticism is good for any game. If there are things that need to be corrected there is little likelihood of their being corrected unless criticism is made. Of course nothing is perfect and criticism can be overdone. A man should be able to see the good side as well as the bad and I think that I made it quite clear that I admired the efficiency and sportsmanship of yourself and your team. If I did not I apologize. I don't get to see your basketball teams as often as I would like, due to my working schedule, but it has always been a pleasure to see them play and I hope to have numerous opportunities in the future.

I appreciated your comment on what I said in the column and if I am wrong on any point I appreciate correction as no one can learn except by receiving information from someone who knows more than he does.

Dear George:

I find that I have failed to answer your letter which I enjoyed very much. And your postcard, with you sitting on the edge of the pool at Palm Springs Tennis Club reminded me that I had not written you.

I want to discourse just a moment on your fine tan that I see you have obtained here in this wonderful health resort. The fellow sitting back on the bench is looking with admiration on that olive skin coloring. How did you do it? Congratulations on your persistence in staying with Old Sol until he did the job! But I agree with you that it is too ritzy a place for a soldier!

Things are going along pretty well here, with a constant exodus of our boys into the service. This campus looks as if it has been riddled by machine gun fire regarding the male enrollment. They roll out every day in great numbers, and the exodus is still continuing. However, we must get accustomed to this if we are to have eleven million men in the service and if we are to knock the spots off of Mister Adolph. Things look pretty well, but Kiplinger's Newsletter out of Washington says not to get too optimistic because the fighting ahead is going to be tough and severe. So I am not allowing myself to get too pepped up, realizing that we have a long, arduous road ahead. Please rest assured that we admire you and the work that you are doing, and we hope that you are very successful.

Doubtless Mrs. Hulteen has told you about the basketball season which has been a very difficult one, but as it turned out, a very satisfying one. I have never had a group of boys who refused to stay licked like this outfit. The town and the school are very proud of them, and I believe rightfully so. They started out as stumblers and uncertain competitors, but with each setback from a loss due to illness or otherwise, the remaining boys carried on.

I will not endeavor to give you the news, trusting that Mrs. Hulteen is a much better codifier of news and a better transmitter than I am. Everything is going along splendidly here and we trust the same is for you.

With all good wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.
