Gentlemen:

Mrs. Allen wrote you yesterday regarding Wilson Houts, of 3126 Forrest Avenue, Kansas City, Missouri.

On November 13, 1941, I wrote my good friend, Joe Westwood, the proprietor of the Blue Valley Foundry, of Kansas City, Missouri. I am enclosing a copy of my letter to him. I mention Harley Davis in this letter. Harley Davis is assistant auditor of the Kansas City Power and Light Company. He is a very good friend of mine and has offered to help me help Wilson to find himself.

This morning I called Joe Westwood and he stated that he was not sure whether he could put Wilson to work, but if he would come in some morning soon for an interview he would endeavor to help him. He is not sure of that, however, but will do his best.

I am passing this information along to you hoping that it will be of some service in helping Wilson. However, I do not know to what limits you go and I feel rather embarrassed in even feeling that you have this extended responsibility in helping Wilson Houts.

My admiration is unbounded for an organization such as yours. I do not know how you work or whether you correspond with anyone, but if there is any possible way that I can work with your organization in the extent of coming in to Kansas City and taking Wilson over to Joe Westwood's for a conference I will do that.

Mrs. Allen told you, I believe, that Wilson Houts is living with his wife at 3126 Forrest Avenue.

May I hear from you?

Very sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education and Recreation,
Varsity Basketball and Baseball Coach.
