Mr. Vic Hurt

Dear Vic:

There is nothing that a fellow can say to another when he sustains an irreparable loss such as you have sustained in the passing of your brother, Virgil.

I had the same experience eight years ago when my youngest brother, Richard, crashed above the United States Military Academy at West Point. It is comforting, however, to know that your mother had a son such as you who could bear the burden in the way you have done.

My deepest sympathy and understanding, Vic.

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education and Recreation
Varsity Basketball and Baseball Coach
