

February 27, 1939.

Mr. Vance Hall,
Downs, Kansas.

Dear Vance:

It was a pleasure to have you come down to Lawrence and witness with a great throng of loyal Kansas followers the fine basketball game that we saw between the University of Oklahoma and the University of Kansas.

You perhaps will remember that we discussed the intelligent fighting spirit that the Kansas boys on the varsity basketball team possess. It is just that will to win and the determination not to take a licking from the other fellow that makes them fight like they did.

And remember that I am counting on you to fill the shoes of some of these boys that you saw play. We have a pair of shoes that will exactly fit you and when you put your feet into them I know that they will be rushing Kansas goalward, as you saw Engleman, Voran, Harp, Corlis, Kline, Miller, Ebling and Allen do their one hundred per cent efficiency stuff last Saturday night. Begin planning now to definitely attend the University of Kansas. It will be your alma mater and you will be very proud of her, and I am sure from all I have heard of you that your alma mater will be proud of you.

I trust to see you often. Come when you can.

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.
