Dear Phog:

This latest rumpus in regard to crooked basketball games must give you a great deal of personal satisfaction after the way your warnings were ignored several months ago.

At that time I had some discussion with a couple of the sports writers here with whom I play golf occasionally and I told them that you usually knew what you were talking about, and that sooner or later you would be able to prove your point.

Needless to say, this also gives me a lot of satisfaction. Here's hoping the mess can be cleaned up pronto.

I'm enclosing some clippings which I thought might interest you.

Sincerely yours,

Lee
