

bronchial irritation and he found the winters here were too severe for his respiratory system. I therefore saw Phil Belmont down at the Texas Relays and told him the type of man Kelly was. Belmont hired him, and Kelly is one of the prime men down at the University of Texas Athletic Department. The Kelly knee pad and the other Kelly apparatus that he sells attest to his ingenuity and personality.

Roland Logan, you know, was the next trainer, and he is now with the Boston Red Sox. Then came Jimmy Cox, and he is now trainer for the athletic teams at Harvard University. Elwyn Dees is the fourth trainer that I have developed, and he is an ace hitter in our school.

I have written this long letter, not with any idea to tire you out, but endeavoring to interest you in a very worthy young man that I took a special liking to in the short time that I had a visit with him when he called upon me last week.

With kindest regards and best wishes, I am

Very cordially yours,
