

December 30, 1937.

Mr. Ira Henry,
Coates House,
Kansas City, Mo.

Dear Ira:

I have been chagrined beyond measure to receive a letter from Mr. Frank L. Myers, of Manhattan, copy of which I am sending you. You can appreciate my position, especially since you wrote me enclosing check and asking me to use my offices in getting tickets for you for the Kansas State - Nebraska game.

I did this, and I understand that you had very fine seats. It is needless for me to recall the many acts of kindness that I have performed for you regarding your K ticket and other comparable courtesies.

I have talked to Mr. Edwin Henry and Mr. Earl Falkenstein about this matter, and I feel that it is time that you should view this with deep concern and send a good check for the amount that you owe Kansas State College Athletic Association.

You will recall that I saw you Thanksgiving Day and mentioned this to you, and you made a remark that you wondered why they held the check so long. I am wondering, Ira, why you have waited so long to make amends. I am under the impression that a fellow who can attend football games at different locations can certainly afford to take care of his obligations promptly and without embarrassment to his friends and other prominent people in the athletic world.

I trust that you will haste in your settlement, sending the money direct to Mr. M. F. Ahearn, Director of Athletics at Kansas State College. Will you be kind enough to advise me when you have done this?

Very sincerely yours,

FCA:AH

Director of Physical Education.