

C
December 30, 1937.

Mr. Roy Holliday,
421 North 22nd Street,
Kansas City, Kansas.

Dear Roy:

It was very generous indeed of you, Roy, to write me the letter you did on the evening of our game with Southwestern. We had a tough battle, and there really was a question just how we were going to emerge from the fray. There was not a person in Winfield that would have given a snap for our chances, but the boys came through, and were they happy.

You know, those small colleges make it tough on a big college when they can.

I want to congratulate you, Roy, on the way you are attacking the problem of success in life. You have got a lot of stuff that it takes to get along in this world. First, you will work and you are serious about the thing that you are attacking. One sentence in your letter makes me believe that you will make a success of the thing that you attempt. This sentence that you wrote is - "I never become discouraged". They can't worry you, boy, when you have that sort of an attitude.

I want you to know that you were a star morale-builder on the team, and one or two such fellows will start the whole crowd scrapping. I have always been very happy to have you on the varsity squad, and it will be a good many days before Kansas will find a finer fighter and a first class gentleman with brains than Roy Holliday.

I will give your regards to Mrs. Allen, and I want to be remembered to your good family. I appreciate your writing, and wish you all the blessings of a happy and prosperous New Year.

Very Sincerely yours,

Varsity Basketball Coach,
Director of Physical Education.

FCA:H