Interesting Kansas Basketball Facts

Tommy Johnson made 18 out of 20 free throw attempts in the Washburn game of 1909. Kansas won 46 to 17.

In the Kansas-Wyandotte A.C. game at Kansas City in 1906, Cole, Wyandotte guard, while not contributing a point to his team's total, made 17 personal fouls. Kansas won 40 to 10.

Highest individual opponent score was made by Bud Browning in 1935 when he scored 11 field goals and 5 free throws for a total of 27 points. Kansas won the game played at Norman 47 to 42.

In the dedicatory game of Robinson gymnasium, Kansas defeated Ottawa 66 to 22, and ran up the largest Kansas lead before the opponent scored, tallying 31 points before Ottawa found the basket range. Lead—31 to 0.

In a game with Missouri at Columbia in 1909, seven Kansas players took part in the game, each had one and only one field goal, and each had a single free throw, and the team committed 7 personal fouls. Missouri won 31 to 21.

"Fog" Allen scored 10 field goals and 6 free throws for a total of 26 points in leading Kansas to 60 to 14 victory over Emporia State Normal in 1906. This was the highest individual score ever made by a Kansas player, in one game.

V. "Shorty" Long made 22 out of 27 free throw attempts in the Kansas-K.C.A.C. game in 1911. K.C.A.C. won 41 to 40. Long also made 137 points from free throws during the season, making all but one of the free throws made by the Kansas team during the year.

The longest period without either Kansas or opponent scoring a single point was the game with Nebraska at Lincoln in 1909. Neither team scored during the first 13 minutes of play (almost one-third of game) and Nebraska led 8 to 2 at the half. Kansas finally won the game 18 to 13.
