

Will you write me again telling me whether or not it is for your team or for your entire school? Proper foot hygiene and painting the feet every day with some good foot toughener is the best way to prevent athletes foot. If there is infection, then some heavy ointment that has sulphur as a base will help. However, I would say that if any boy has athletes foot he should be sent to a doctor as the responsibility is too great for a coach or principal to undertake in the treating of these cases.

Let me know if I have answered your questions in a manner that is of any help to you.

Very cordially yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.
