

Kinesiology is a science of body mechanics (Bowen & McKenzie).
is a science which treats of movements of the human body (Webster's) ;
science of human motion.

Physiology -- science which treats with the functions.

Anatomy -- science which treats with structure

Histology -- science of microscopic anatomy

Osteology -- Science of the anatomy, structure, and function of bones.

Myology -- The science of the nature, function, structure and disease of muscles.

Syndesmology -- The science of the ligaments.

Angiology -- The science of the blood-vessels and lymphatics.

Splanchnology -- Science of the nature and functions of the viscera.

Neurology -- Science of nervous structure, function, and pathology.

Embryology -- Science of embryonic evolution.