Dear Don:

I fouled out on you on the letter regarding Earl Price. Mr. Quigley had been following up on the boys who were future prospects and with his aid we write the seniors. Mr. Quigley has an idea that if we start too early with these boys that many of them will get too self-conscious and he likes to handle these things in his own way. Of course, I am highly agreeable to working with him according to his plan. However, I can see the great value in a boy receiving a letter from a coach-- the coach complimenting him on his fine work and keeping in touch in a friendly way with his efforts.

I am writing Earl Price and sending you a carbon copy of my letter. I want you to know how very much I appreciate your university loyalty; especially when you go to the extent of checking up again on tardy correspondence by coaches. We certainly would be delighted to have Earl Price here at the University. The method that you are working on him is most commendable. The way you describe this boy I certainly know he is a dandy.

I have confidence in your powers of observation. With all good wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education
Varsity Basketball Coach
