

February 26, 1945.

Capt. H. L. Kirkpatrick, M. C.,
Station Hospital,
Hamilton Field, California.

Dear Dr. Kirkpatrick:

I was mighty happy to have your letter saying that you enjoyed the Rebounds. I wish you might have been here to see some of our basketball games. The kids are not terribly hot, but we have been able to limp along to a near tie. If Kansas State beats Iowa State tonight at Manhattan, we will get at least a tie for it, but if Louie Menze's boys beat the Aggie cousins I am afraid we will be in for a tough time at Ames on Friday night, March 2nd.

They are liable to lick us up there because we do not have a finished ball club, and Iowa State is tougher than a cowpuncher's boot, on their own floor.

We are making the change of your address to Station Hospital, Hamilton Field, California. I am hoping to write another Rebounds this week so you should have it before too long.

It is always good to hear from you, and I assure you that we will be looking forward to the time when you are back with us.

With all good wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

FCA:AH

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.