

U. S. NAVY PRE-FLIGHT SCHOOL
ATHENS, GEORGIA

Saturday - Dec. 25, '43.

Dear "Doc,"

It seems like everytime I write I am at a different base. This time its Athens, Georgia. Today is the first week day I have had liberty since I came in the air corps last June. I have just been ~~laying~~ around the bks. today as it is raining and pretty cold outside. Today seems to be the first day that I found myself really wanting to be home with my folks too.

I spent about two hours this after noon reminiscing our trip back east just a year ago this time. Thats one trip I'll never forget - especially when we beat Fordham in Md. Sq garden.
