Dear Dr. Allen:

I have your kind letter and enclosure of letter to Professor Wilkens regarding admission of Glee Club to basketball games. I regret very much that these gentlemen still think they are not being afforded every attention in our serious endeavors to admit them to games. I shall continue to make special efforts to minimize their complaints.

At the last game, in spite of the fact that all who came to my attention were told where to go for admittance, and my tearful pleas to them to stay off seats set alongside courts ~~were~~ reserved for the state legislators, these temperamental artists insisted on sitting anywhere and everywhere.

Please rest assured that I am doing all humanly possible to abide with your request and cater to the wants of those in question.

Sincerely,

WILLIAM KOLLENDER.

Dear Harold:

May I thank you for the 'steenth time for your manifold kindnesses in giving me more than I always deserve. However, you have been so generous upon so many occasions, and especially at this last one, that I thank you sincerely.

Had I had my way long ago you would have been working for the University of Kansas. You are naturally strong for your own native heath. But the thing that impresses me so indelibly is the fact that you see manifold goodnesses and talents in the other fellow's work. For that reason I characterize you as an outstanding and eminent journalist and newspaper man.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Lawrence, Kansas.

March 21, 1941

Dear Fellow K-Men:

There has been much speculation over the campus regarding Dandelion Day. May I revert back to 1921 and tell you an incident that took the campus by storm?

After the Kansas-Nebraska football game on November 13, 1920, Kansas, being badly outweighed 26 pounds to the man, came back from a Nebraska first half with a 20 to 0 score against them. We made three touch downs on forward passes against the Cornhuskers in the last half. The final score was 20 to 20 with a goal to kick and Kansas missed it, but that did not detract from the splendid 20 to 20 victory achieved that day over Nebraska.

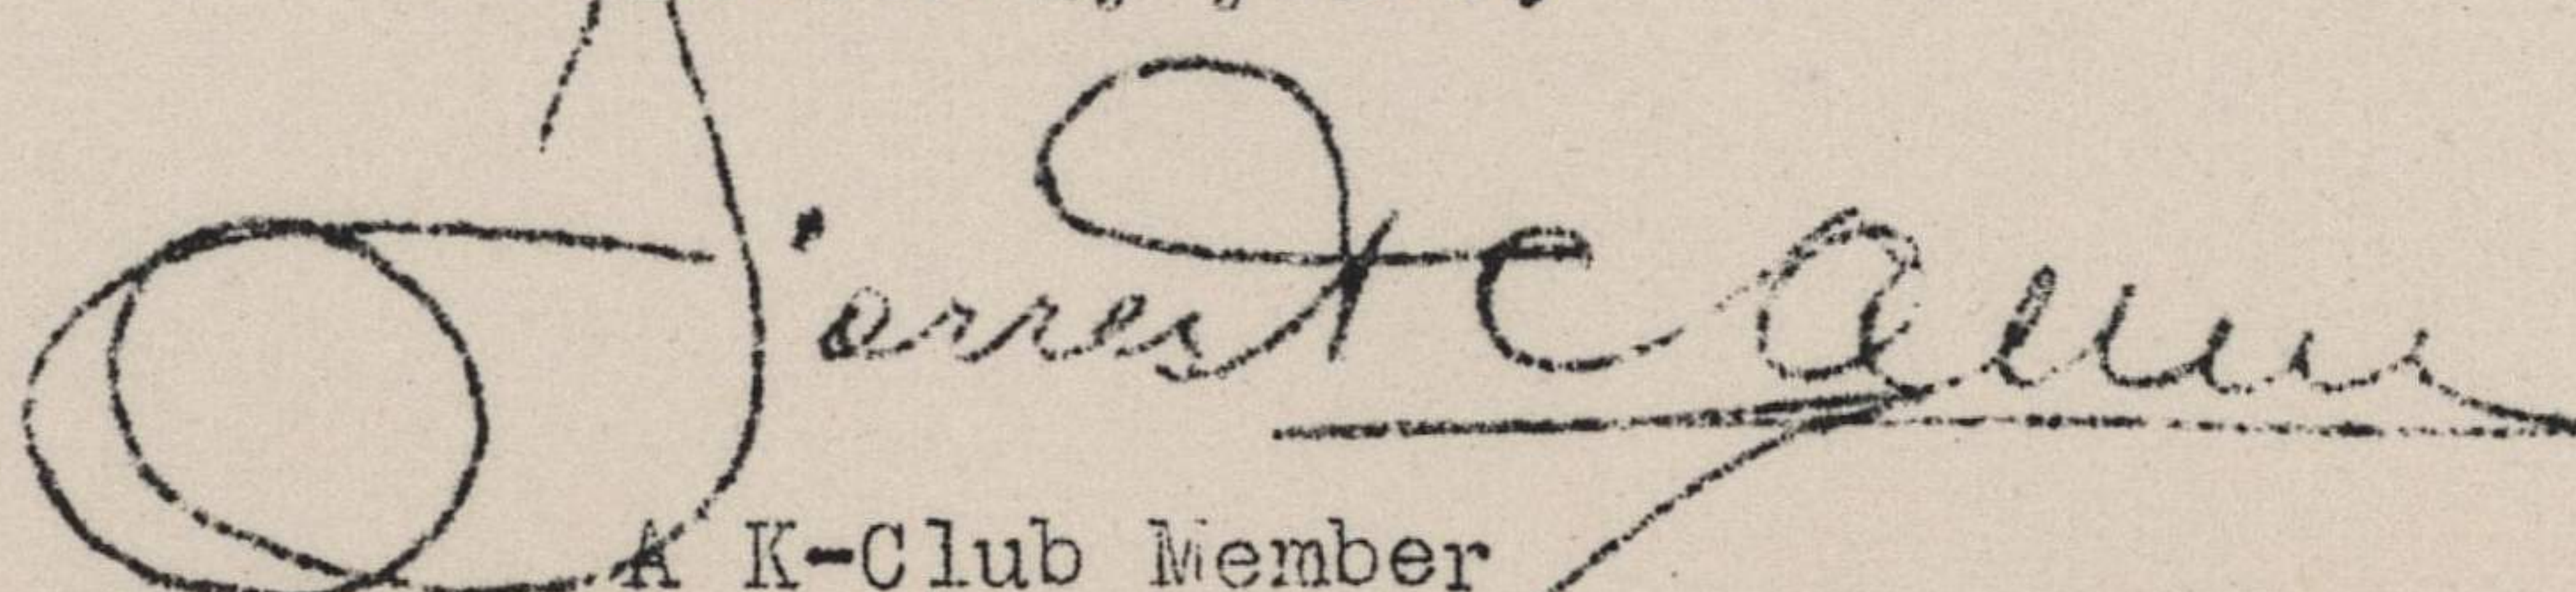

On Monday morning in Robinson Gymnasium the students of the University subscribed $160,000 of their money to build a stadium. In May, 1921, Chancellor Lindley, in his first year, gave the students a holiday for the purpose of tearing down old McCook Field's wooden bleachers. The organization work was done by the engineers and the students of the University rallied that May morning and did a wonderful job and saved the Athletic Association some $10,000. The women of the University served the meal out of doors. Then in the afternoon the day was turned over to sporting events and the entire University turned out en masse to play. The K-Men of the University had charge of the sports.

Now, twenty years from that date, a new Chancellor has arrived on the scene and he is giving a holiday to the students. It is wholly up to them as to what they will do with it. But I am hoping that the K-Men of the University take hold of this project and show the administration that they have the leadership necessary to put this holiday over with a bang. If there are any pikers in the entire group of University students, they should not be in the K-Club. Let's have our group working 100% both from a cooperative and an enthusiastic viewpoint.

Whether you know it or not, the K-Men are a very dominant force on the campus. You can make this holiday a great tradition and it will go down year after year as something durable and worthwhile. The only reason that we call this Dandelion Day is because no other great project appeared on the imaginative horizon of the student committee. Why cannot the K-Club with other leaders find a day each year that will redound to the pleasure, benefit, and durability of great traditions on a great University of Kansas campus?

I trust each and everyone of you K-Men will support your President, Ouido Massare, in everything that he attempts to do to raise the morale of the K-Club and their efficiency to the high level that it deserves.

Sincerely yours,

A K-Club Member

The Director of Physical Education.

Dear Sir:

Some time ago I sent you a request for your 1940-41 catalog from which I could obtain information relative to your teacher training curriculum in Physical Education for 1940-41. Unfortunately, I have not yet heard from you, so would like again to solicit your cooperation in this matter.

As you will be aware, the problems involved in Physical Education curricula are numerous and difficult of solution. Therefore any light which can be thrown on this subject should be valuable not only to the profession as a whole; but also to each individual institution preparing teachers in this field. This is the hope which prompts the study I am making.

Therefore may I hope that your catalog will come to hand in the near future.

Very sincerely yours,

Hector W. Kay

The Director,
Department of Physical Education.

In 1929 a committee of the American Physical Education Association under the chairmanship of the late Dr. J. H. McCurdy made a study "on the curriculum of the 139 Institutions preparing Teachers of Physical Education in the United States." The published result of this study is now, of course, out of date, and also out of print. To bring the study up to date; and, if possible to distinguish trends during the past eleven years, the Graduate Committee of Springfield College, Springfield, Mass., has asked me to conduct a similar study relative to the curricula of 1940-41.

As an institution preparing teachers of Physical Education I would like you to send me your catalog for 1940-41, from which I could secure information concerning your courses of study, hour requirements, etc. It is my intention to analyze the catalog of each institution, tabulate the results, and submit the analysis to the college or university concerned for approval. These approved summaries would then be compiled to give a complete picture of Physical Education training practices throughout the country.

In a study of this kind, valuable as it may be, the results are directly proportional to the percentage of returns secured. Therefore I hope that I may count on your cooperation in sending me the catalog requested.

Sincerely yours,

Hector W. Kay

Graduate Research Worker.

Company 752
Camp Thayer, S. C. S.-20
Hebron, Nebraska

Dear Commander Kuykendall:

The game which you describe in your letter of March 30 should be administered by the referee and the official scorer. The referee has power to call the official scorer into conference and whatever the score was on the official score sheet is the official score.

Regardless of what was done at the end of the regulation playing time the referee should award the game to Team A, winner by two points. Whatever took place after the termination of the game would not matter because at the end of the regulation playing time Team A was ahead by two points. The referee should award the game to Team A.

The official score is the determining score, and unless there was a statement by the official scorer other than the way you describe it to me, then the referee could only announce the score as shown on the official scorer's book.

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education and Recreation
Varsity Basketball and Baseball Coach

Dear Sir:

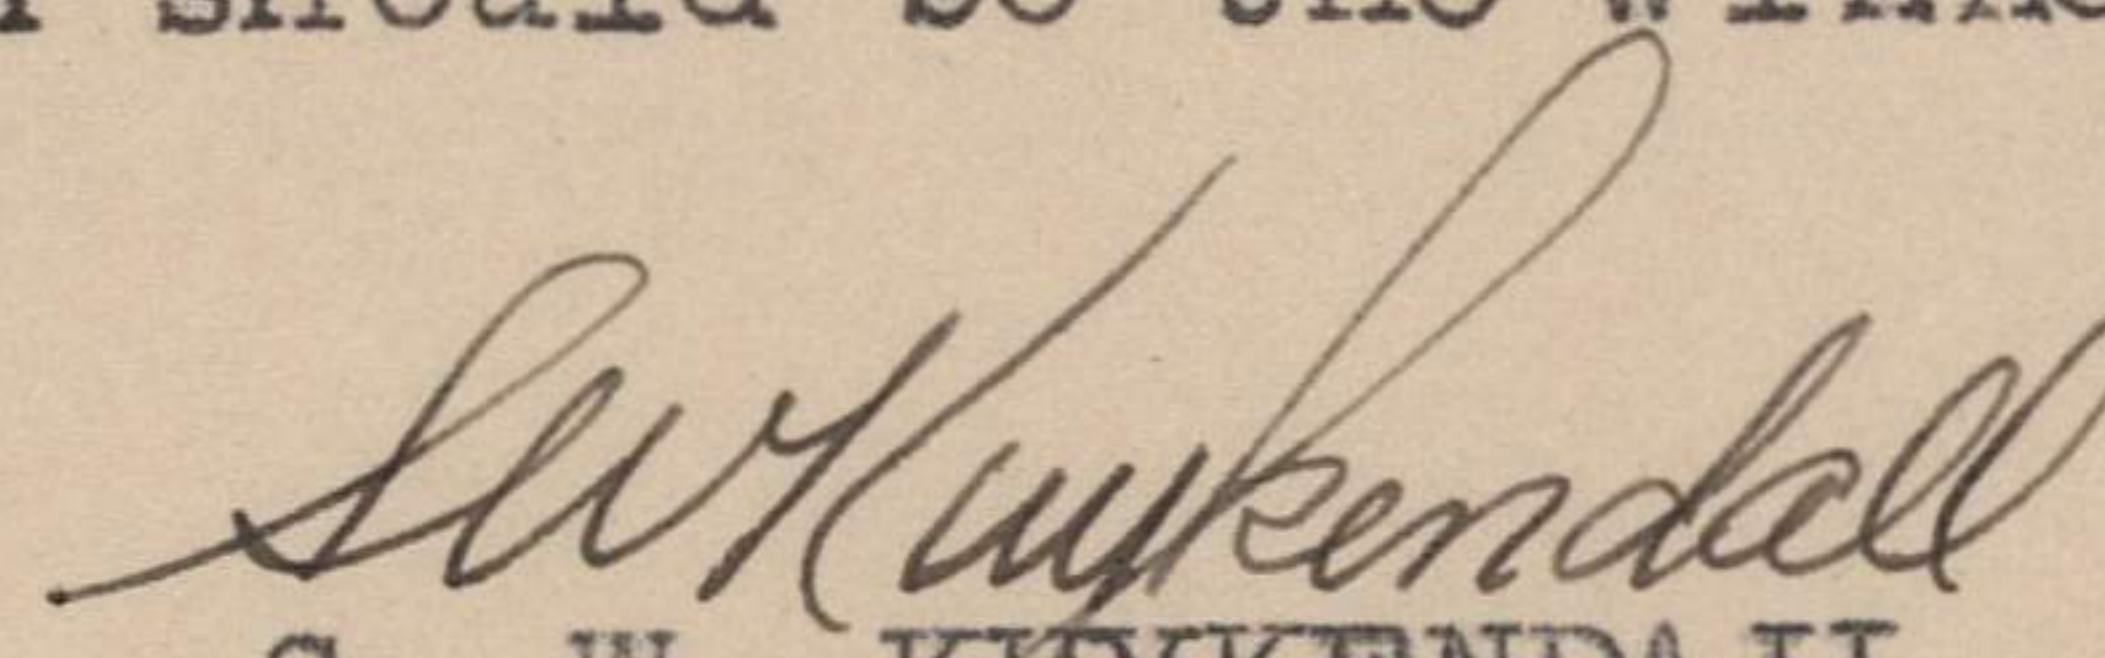

This situation occurred in a basketball tournament recently. At the end of the game the score board showed Team A to be the winner by 2 points. Both teams left the floor and started dressing. The official scorer then announced that the game was a tie.

The teams were called back and in an overtime period team B won and was awarded the game and are still officially recognized as the winners.

On rechecking the official score sheet it was found that the original score was correct and Team A was ahead by 2 points. at the end of the game. The official scorer concurred in this.

Team A had stalled during the last few seconds of the game in the belief that they were ahead.

Request your opinion on which team should be the winner.

Dear Mr. Allen:

National Posture Week will be observed this year from May 5th to 10th and as part of this program we are again making available a new booklet, sample of which is enclosed, for issuance to schools, colleges and health groups who are interested in participating in this important movement, which medical authorities everywhere have endorsed.

Last year we received a tremendous response from educators and public health groups throughout the country and records disclose the gratifying interest that was stimulated as the result of this activity.

Many educators have already indicated that they are planning programs to observe this occasion because of the prevailing interest in health as it relates to defense.

Copies of the enclosed booklet are offered to you free in limited quantities as our contribution to public health education in America. If you desire a supply of these, may we ask that your request for them be sent by return mail? Upon receipt of your request these will be promptly dispatched, together with a page of suggestions as to how to use the booklet, as well as other ideas which you may wish to consider.

Respectfully yours,

Dear Lester:

I felt perhaps that our visit in the hotel in Manhattan, Kansas, sufficed in the way of an answer to your letter of May 22nd.

However, I'm writing you to tell you that John Burge is employed in the Recreation work in Kansas City play grounds for the summer and has accepted a position as teacher at the Raytown High School, just south and east of Kansas City, for next fall.

Ralph Dugan is here in Lawrence at the present time due to the fact that Mrs. Dugan is suffering from pneumonia in the hospital and will not be released for another week. I have not seen Ramie Biems since Commencement. But we told all of those boys if they were interested to come over for an interview.

It is my honest opinion that you could not get a better and a more efficient man than Ralph Dugan. I have great confidence in his ability and his integrity. I used him as my freshman baseball coach and for four years he worked in the supply room. In all of this time I found him efficient, loyal, and trustworthy. I would bet my last dollar on Red Dugan. He will never fail you and will do a successful job.

With all good wishes, I am,

Dear "Doc":

Sometime ago I talked to you about available recreation leaders graduating from your department this spring. At the time, the names of Ralph Dugan, Rudy Beims and John Burge were mentioned in particular. Since then, Mr. Dugan has made formal application with us and he is going to interview Mr. Joseph P. McGinley, State Supervisor of Recreation regarding employment on Friday of this week.

We plan to add several people to our staff in the immediate future and I suggest to you that if Mr. Beims and Mr. Burge are interested that they come over for an interview at the same time as Mr. Dugan.

I see that your baseball team is winning a few ball games and hope that I will get to see them in action before the season is over.

Dear Miss Knox:

In some fashion, your letter came to my desk and was mislaid. And, I find that I failed to answer the same but am now doing so and trust that the information I'm able to give you will not be too late.

You do not mention the talented student's name but I'm very sure that we could promise her work at thirty five cents per hour. This is the rate we pay students for helping around the department.

We have just engaged a teacher of dance for next year. Miss Mabel Schilling, graduate of the University of Illinois. She comes highly recommended and I'm very sure that your protegee would receive very excellent training from Miss Schilling.

We have a fine woman's department. Miss Ruth Hoover is the head of our department. She is a graduate of the University of Illinois and of Columbia Teachers College of New York. Miss Hoover teaches sports and games.

Miss Joie Stapleton, graduate of the University of Kansas and of Columbia Teachers College, who previously was Supervisor of Physical Education in the Kansas City Public Schools, has charge of our Teacher's Training for Swimming.

So, I'm very sure this young lady will receive some very wholesome and valuable instruction. I trust this information is not too late for your purposes.

Dear Sir: - I have a very talented pupil who has studied dancing with me for a good many years. She has decided to major in Physical Education. She will make an intelligent, competent and valuable teacher. She has had some modern dance and wishes to continue in it. Her dance foundation is very good she could assist in teaching tap, folk dancing, ballet, the or modern. She also sews very well. Her sophomore year of college will be completed this spring and she wishes to enroll in K. U. next fall. but must help herself where ever she goes. Not entirely but partially. She is also very clever in art, has done all the designs for our annual the last ~~two~~ years and has also a flare for costume and stage design. She needs to study further in this field but has a talent very well worth developing.

Do you have a scholarship or any self help which would be available for her?

She has a strong well proportioned body, is intelligent has poise and personality. She would be able to contribute materially to any environment in which she found herself.

I would appreciate your advice about helping her to establish herself someplace where her talents may be developed.
