

1st Lt. Clinton Kanaga, USMCR
Blig. 16, S O Q,
U. S. Naval Hospital,
San Diego, California

Clint sent me a jumbo postcard of the U. S. Naval Hospital at San Diego, and what a whopper it was!

Lieut. William G. Wade,
Box 205,
Hobbs Army Air Field,
Hobbs, New Mexico.

Bill wrote as follows: "I am flying B-17 Flying Fortresses now and I really like it. I was over Lawrence last Saturday on my way to Chicago on cross country. The old campus looked great, as did the town. I went off my course about 60 miles just to fly over Mt. Orad. Little did I think while I was in school there that I would ever be over it in a B-17. It was a real thrill."

Pfc. Otto O. Schnellbacher,
629th TSS, Flight D,
Box 64,
Gulfport, Miss.

Otto writes - "Today I saw 500 crew chiefs leave the field for shipment. That means the government has five hundred new planes for these boys somewhere - for as soon as they leave here they are given a new plane to take care of. Imagine seven schools in the U. S. turning out that many a month or even more, and for every boy they have a plane waiting for him. It doesn't seem possible, but they are doing it and they still are bringing in new men for A and M school. Uncle Sam is surely arranging some additional planes for the three gangster countries."

Pfc. Jim Reed,
Hq., Co. Squadron,
2nd C.T.U. A.A.B., A.T.C., Homestead, Florida.

Jim, formerly clever sports writer of the Topeka Daily Capital, sent us his kindest regards. We reciprocate with our very best regards to Jim.

Maj. Maurice Clavelle Holden,
Box 414,
Carmel, California.

Clavelle was one of our outstanding sportswriters on the coast and he had an uncanny ability to get the news and put it out in a most attractive way. He was here from 1934 to '40. Congratulations to a successful Jayhawker who is moving progressively ahead.

Lt. (jg) Horace Mason,
Hollis N. 27,
Harvard Yards,
Cambridge, Mass.

Greetings to another sports writer, the new walking athletic encyclopedia of the Sports Publicity Bureau of the Athletic Association!

Capt. F. A. Durand,
Co. C, 2nd Amph. Tr. Bn.,
2nd Marine Div.,
c/o Fleet Postoffice,
San Francisco, California.

Fen says he is still where he has been and he is anxious to hear from home folks, as always. We are hoping that your good luck holds out, Fen, and we know it will.

Cand. W. R. Channel,
7 Bty. 3rd Plat., 79. AAA, OCS,
Student Brigade,
Camp Davis, North Carolina.

Dick Channel writes: "I am busier than I ever thought I could possibly be. The sweat and weight have been pouring off me and I weigh about 196 now and am still going down."
