

for study, I am doing more than I ever thought that Paul Turner would do in his life. Everyone in the program is taking 19 hours. . . Physics is the only subject that is bothering me so far. . . . Tell everyone in the P. E. department hello for me, and any of my other friends that still are there." Well, Paul, there aren't many fellows left, except of course, as you know, Henry Shenk, Reg Strait and Dean Nesmith.

Pfc. Don E. Blair,
Co. B, 3202, S.C.S.U.;
A.S.T.U. New York University,
Bronx 53, New York.

(Don) in his letter of July 19, presumes that we will be surprised at his new address. He went from Virginia Polytechnic Institute to New York University. He says,

"I was accepted for an engineering program and was sent to New York University to attend engineering school. . . . Bill Brill is in Mississippi in the air corps now. His address is - Pvt. W. W. Brill, Sq. 601, Class 70, Bks. 6, 60th Training Group, Keesler Field, Miss."

We have four new men in the department that we want to acquaint you boys with. They are: Howard Porter, a Missouri graduate, who was at Argentine High School and a teaching associate of Eddie Ash; Vernon Hayes, who is a brother of our Rutherford B. Hayes, captain of our football team in '35. Vernon has been teaching at Waterville and was to teach at Wamego. Elmer Schaaque, who coached a great Liberty Memorial High School team to an undefeated championship last fall. And Jack Austin, who played on Fran Welch's football team. Jack was in school working on his doctor's degree and we hired him to do physical conditioning work.

These boys have charge of the A-12 group -- 776 of them who are quartered in Lindley Hall. The A-12 group will confine their physical conditioning to Hoch Auditorium so far as possible, using the stage and all the basketball court, from 7:30 in the morning until 4:30 in the afternoon. The Navy V-12 students use Robinson Gymnasium, and the civilians will use the west side of the stadium, the freshman football shed.

At the present time the A-12 boys are eating their food down at the stadium. Installations have been made so that refrigeration, kitchen locations, and all are temporarily used under the stadium until Lindley Hall can be put in shape. The freshman dressing rooms have all been repainted and you would hardly know the place if you would walk under there. When you have nearly eight hundred men eating three times a day you can imagine that Uncle Sam has gone to some expense to insure the hygienic conditions for these men. Volunteer women members of the faculty are aiding in the service at meal time for these chaps.

Now, regarding the football program. Henry Shenk, Elmer Schaaque and Dean Nesmith, the three Kansas musketeers, all of whom have played on former Kansas teams, will start varsity football practice September 1. The schedule has undergone some change and we are bringing this up to date. However, there may be some additional changes, and we will notify you in our next letter.
