

(Pvt.), 402nd Tng. Gp. Unit No. 3, Flight I, B.T.C. #4, Miami Beach Florida, who made a great name for himself in football and basketball channels during his sophomore year-a thousand good wishes and happy returns.

And to quiet, modest, blushing, efficient, and yes, "terrible", Pvt. Ray Evans, Sq. 479P, 606 T.G., B.T.C. 6, A.A.F.T.T.C., St. Petersburg, Florida, we are tickled to death that you are in the swanky St. Petersburg area. I am sorry that 'ol scarlet fever has caught up with you. A blush is now the normal color for you for a week or ten days.

Please remember, boys, that these millionaires haven't got a thing on you. You bathe in the same water and absorb violet rays from the same beach. And these millionaires who ate devitalized bread were still devitalized after trying to revitalize in the Florida sunshine.

Pvt. Charlie Black, Training Group 505
Squad 20, Flight 29-G
Barracks 1536, B.T.C. 5
A.A.F.T.T.C.
Kearns, Utah.

We are sending you a copy of The Sporting News, in which Cy Kritzer, the sport editor of the Buffalo, N.Y., Evening News, pays you a fine tribute. We have one on the bulletin board and we have sent one to your mother, and are sending one to you. Some day you may want to show your clippings to some of those boys out there.

And by the way, they tell me a good moron story that you will doubtless want to hear, Charlie. Some of the school teachers in a teachers group here in Lawrence were telling moron stories. When the best moron story was told one of the teachers said, "You know, I saw those morons last summer. I was out in Utah." Can you tell a better one than that, Charlie?

Pvt. Jack Ballard, Troop B, 6th Squadron,
Barracks 2524,
C.R.T.C.
Fort Riley, Kansas

I saw Dean Moreau, of the Law School, and he said, "Of all the fellows that I remember as playing their greatest game, it was Jack Ballard in the Oklahoma game. I thought he came farther to do the greatest job than any boy I had seen play."

Pvt. Don E. Blair, Co. B, 21st Bn.,
Fort McClellan, Alabama

I saw your dad and brother at the Methodist Church in Ottawa last Monday night. That brother of yours grows faster than you did when you were his age.

To blond and blushing Pvt. Bill Brill, Co. B, 21st Bn., Fort McClellan, Alabama, the Kansas fighting guard who had a lot of hard luck but who made the headlines in the news in the last Big Six game. Read what Fred Ellsworth says about you in his "Jayhawker Sports". Bill, we hope you are getting along fine. Drop us a line that is interesting and in the next letter we will include it.
