

November 17, 1938.

Mr. Balfour Jeffrey,
Attorney at Law,
National Bank Building,
Topeka, Kansas.

Dear Bal:

I am still promising myself that I am going to run over there and have that visit with you in Topeka. It seems a travesty that when we are so close to each other that we do not get together more often, but with basketball season coming on doubtless we will see more of each other.

I am sending you a schedule of our games so that you can have the dates lined up in good shape. The varsity will play the freshmen on November 29 so that our patrons will get acquainted with our varsity and our freshman groups. You may not want to come down for that one, although I would be happy if you could. We have some fairly good freshman material, but it will not compare with last year's freshman squad.

Last spring when it was rather late for the school year, I wrote Chester Woodward asking him if he could discreetly arrange for some time for me to speak to the Topeka High School assembly. Chet wrote back that it was so late in the year and they had had so many assemblies that he could not very well arrange it, but would do so this year.

With our new set up in Physical Education I find it quite expedient for me, as head of the new four-year major course, to get out over the state and make appearances before these high school assemblies. Of course we never mention in the high school assemblies anything about this new set up here, but I do find that by getting out and getting acquainted with principals and superintendents it is a help to our enrollment. For that reason, Bal, I am wondering if you could rather discreetly contact Chester Woodward or Principal Van Slyek, or the powers that be there, and arrange some morning this winter when I might be invited to speak.

Last spring I spoke at Wichita East, Newton, Salina, Russell and a lot of towns out in that part of the country. This year I am desiring to cover the ones closer, because I do not miss so much time away from school. My morning class hours for this semester are as follows: Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 11:30 to 12:30; Tuesday and Thursday, 9:30 to 10:30.
